WATER POLICE ROILING UP CRIMINALS

U.S. Using Liquor Imports To Bargain For Export Trade

Government Planning Quotas in Direct Proportion as Other Countries Lower Tariffs to Permit Republic to Sell More Goods Abroad

Canadians Watch Move With Interest

By Cecil B. Dickson, Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, Nov. 29.—The government was revealed today to be negotiating with liquor exporting countries on the basis, "You buy our products, and we'll allow yours entry here in proportion."

Secret discussions have been underway for some time, it became apparent in testimony given by Moredecai Ezekiel, economic adviser to Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, on the proposed code for the importing and export of the liquor business.

Questioned by newspapermen, however, he declined to name the countries. He said the pact would undoubtedly bring about an improved outlet for agricultural and industrial products. Importation of 20,000,000 gallons of spirits and 15,000,000 gallons of wine is likely in the first year after repeal.

WILL BARGAIN

Washington, Nov. 29.—The United States government today notified liquor importers of its intention to use prohibition repeal to bring about a lowering of tariff barriers against American products in other countries, through adjustment of liquor imports, after December 5.

Edward G. Lowry Jr., economic adviser of the Treasury Department, at the opening of hearings on a proposed government code for importers of beer, wine and spirits, predicted keen competition among other countries to get United States liquor business. This would militate against domestic distillers and brewers.

Due to a "growth of economic nationalism" in foreign countries in recent years, he said, United States products had been discriminated against and the administration now felt that through importations of liquor, an opportunity was afforded to correct some of this.

Great Progress In Seventy-five Years

Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital Seventy-five Years Old To-morrow

Has Grown From Two-story Frame Building on Yates Street to Present Size

Seventy-five years of progress from a small two-story building on the corner of Yates and Broad Street in 1858 to a modern fire-proof five-story hospital equipped with the latest medical and scientific discoveries which with its subsidiary buildings, covers an area of nearly twenty acres—that is the record of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital which celebrates its seventy-fifth birthday to-morrow. Keeping in step with the march of science, the hospital has become equipped with the latest discoveries and now stands as one of the best-equipped institutions of its kind in Canada.

On November 30, 1858, the Royal Hospital, forerunner of the present Jubilee Hospital, was founded at the corner of Broad and Yates Street, where the store of J. M. Whitney and Company now stands, in a two-story frame building, which was owned by the late Mrs. Thomas Blinborough. Mrs. Blinborough also owned the beds and bedding in the hospital and loaned them until the finances were in such a position so that the institution could provide its own. Dr. James Helmcken was the chairman of the first board of directors.

During the first five months of the hospital's existence forty-nine patients were treated. Among those who received medical assistance were a number of people from the mainland and miners from the Cariboo, where the gold rush was going on at the time.

Equipped only with the instruments and appliances which in comparison with modern equipment seems almost wholly inadequate, the pioneers of the first hospital performed a noble and altruistic service to the community. Some of the early medical men who

HART CALLS FOR ECONOMY

Essential as Part of B.C.'s Financial Recovery Scheme

Government Departments Given Instructions to Prepare Estimates

On instructions from Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, officials of departments of the British Columbia Government are at work on the preparation of estimates ready for presentation by the minister to the next session of the British Columbia Legislature which will probably be held in February.

Economy must be the guiding thought in drafting the estimates, the minister has advised all departments. Fringing must take place as far as possible, and if this is not carried out to the Finance Minister's satisfaction it is probable there will be further pruning when the estimates of expenditure are placed before him.

Economy alone will not be sufficient to place the province on the financial basis aimed at, but forms an important part of the general plan, the main feature of which is the refunding scheme under which the carrying charges of the debt of the province will be reduced by as much, it is hoped, as $5,000,000.

The economy in administration is considered an essential part of the scheme, as British Columbia must show it is putting its house in order. This fact should be an important consideration when British Columbia makes its appeal to Ottawa or to the financial markets to put its policies into effect.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Vancouver, Nov. 29 (Canadian Press)—Bruce Boyd, charged with murder following the death of Carl Norberg October 13 when knocked down by an automobile, was committed for trial when the preliminary hearing was concluded today before Magistrate W. M. McKay. Frank Lyons, counsel for Boyd, reserved the defence evidence.

True Bill In Wynkoop Case

Chicago, Nov. 29.—A true bill charging Dr. Alice Wynkoop with the murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, was reported to have been voted by the county grand jury today.

The action was reported after several witnesses, including police officers who heard the sixty-two-year-old woman's confession last Friday, had testified. Apparently the state had not taken up the case against her son Earle, held, like her, in the county jail.

A letter was made public today purporting to inject a "secret love" into the case. The letter, written in red ink, and addressed to "reporters," read, substantially: "Dr. Wynkoop and Earle had nothing to do with the murder of Rheta. I was in love with her. I killed her. Tommy."

New Wheat Scheme Before Commission

France and Germany Unite in Price Limiting Proposal at London Session

By Albert W. Wilson, Associated Press Foreign Staff

London, Nov. 29.—A revolutionary price fixing scheme, proposed by French and German delegates, was in the hands of a sub-committee of the World Wheat Commission here today. This committee is to investigate the price-fixing plan and other proposals forwarded by the commission, which adjourned yesterday evening, as too radical for immediate action.

Woman Tennis Champion Of U.S. Receives Threatening Letters

MISS HELEN JACOBS

Boston, Nov. 29.—Helen Jacobs, United States woman tennis champion, today reported to federal authorities she had received several threatening and obscene letters and appealed to the authorities for help.

Miss Jacobs, a resident of Berkeley, Cal., who has been the guest of Miss Alona Friend of Marblehead and Brookline since her default victory over Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, reported the receipt of the letters to the Department of Justice office here.

Francis J. W. Ford, United States attorney, asked Miss Jacobs to bring the letters into his office immediately that they might be examined and postal inspectors assigned to running down the writer.

Officials of Three States At Grips With Lynch Outbreaks

Missouri Stirred By Slaying of Negro Youth By Mob; Grand Jury Meets at San Jose, Cal.; Habeas Corpus Attempt For Prisoners in Maryland

Associated Press
Kansas City, Nov. 29.—Two negroes died violent deaths in the sister states of Missouri and Kansas yesterday evening within 100 miles of each other. One was a hero; the other was the object of a mob's hatred.

At St. Joseph, Mo., Lloyd Warner, nineteen, confessed attacker of two women, was hanged and the body burned before a crowd of 7,000.

In Topeka, capital city of Kansas, Benjamin J. Davidson, night jailer, lost his life, as he frustrated an attempt of Cecil Thornburgh, Kansas desperado, to escape.

NOT PARALLEL

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 29.—Governor James Rolph, when informed of the St. Joseph, Mo., lynching and asked to comment in light of his approval of the San Jose lynching of Sunday night, said:

"The cases are not parallel. Kidnapping was not involved in the St. Joseph lynching."

GUARDS OVERCOME

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 29.—Lynch law has settled the case of Lloyd Warner, confessed attacker of two women. The nineteen-year-old negro died in flames at the end of a rope yesterday evening before the eyes of a mob of 7,000 which battered its way through national guardsmen and peace officers to seize him in the Buchanan County jail. Women and children watched him die. Some were friends of the white girl of twenty-one who, officers said, Warner assaulted in an alleyway here Sunday evening.

"I'm a fighting Dutchman," said Sheriff Otto Thiesen, city. "But there are too many Irishmen here for me." Tear gas fumes, remnants of the defence of forty city and county officers and the hastily mobilized members of the 33rd Tank Company of the Missouri National Guard floated on the jail stairway down which the negro was dragged to death.

The girl victim of the attack, waylaid on her way home from a motion picture theatre, was reported near hysteria.

EYEWITNESS TELLS STORY

The following eyewitness account of the lynching was given by A. M. (Pat) Oimsted, local politician.

"After reaching the third floor of the jail building, the leaders of the mob were met by Sheriff Otto Thiesen, who unlocked the cell where Warner was cowering.

"Stripped to the waist, the prisoner was dragged out by four young members of the mob.

CONSERVATIVE LEAD SHRINKS

British Party Retains Harbrough Seat in Commons By Reduced Majority

Thirtieth By-election Since General Contest Held in 1931

Harbrough, Leicestershire, Eng., Nov. 29.—The Conservative vote suffered a drastic shrinkage for the third successive by-election, as the Conservatives retained the Harbrough seat, figures of the by-election released today showed.

The polling yesterday resulted as follows: Ronald Tree, Conservative, 19,320; W. Bennett, Labor, 12,460; W. Carey Wilson, Liberal, 6,144.

In last general election the Earl of Castlestewart, Conservative, was elected with 29,790 votes to 10,212 for Major F. J. Wise, Labor.

The by-election was due to the resignation of the sitting member.

Harbrough was the thirtieth by-election in Great Britain since the general election of 1931. Twenty-six resulted in no change, three were Labor recoveries of seat lost in the general election, and the remaining one was a Labor victory in the traditionally Conservative seat of East Fulham.

Belgium Backs Arms Conference

Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 29.—A strong plea for close international co-operation and continuation of the Disarmament Conference was made by Foreign Minister Paul Hymans in a speech before the Chamber of deputies today.

Belgium ought to combine with Great Britain and France, he declared, to maintain the obligation of the Locarno Treaty and the League of Nations.

LETTERS TO KING CAUSE OF TRIAL

Clarence G. G. Haddon Before London Magistrate; Denies Blackmail Attempt

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 29.—Charged in the Bow Street Police Court today with an attempt to blackmail the King, Clarence Guy Gordon Haddon, well-dressed middle-aged man, was formally remanded in custody until December 5, with the prosecutor suggesting it might be desirable to have him medically examined.

The specific charge was that Haddon had written a letter "demanding money from the King with menaces and with-out reasonable or probable cause."

Haddon told the Scotland Yard investigating officer, "I demand money from the King to live, as the letters I wrote to the King show."

(The Duke of Clarence, eldest son of King Edward VIII, the Prince of Wales, was heir to the throne of Edward, but he died in 1922, years before his father died the throne. Consequently Prince George, second son of Edward, became heir to the throne and succeeded his father as George VI. Haddon is a consulting engineer who recently returned from China.)

CURRIE TO-DAY IN CRITICAL STATE

CONTEST FOR MAYOR HERE

W. H. Sargent Says He Will Oppose Mayor Leeming at Polls Next Month

Main Interest, However, Centres on Battle For Council Seats

Prospects of an acclamation for Mayor Leeming for a third term in office were eliminated this morning by an announcement from W. H. Sargent, 1315 Vining Street, that he would oppose the present chief magistrate at the December polls. Mr. Sargent was an unsuccessful majority candidate in 1931, receiving forty-seven votes in a five-side contest.

Mr. Sargent took out his nomination papers this morning. When asked for a statement of policy he said his idea was economy in money and material. Victoria, he said, had to recover from the mistakes made in 1910, 1911 and 1912, and while he had no particular quarrel with the present administration, intended to put his name in nomination. He said he would not wage an active campaign.

Mr. Sargent has lived forty-nine years in British Columbia. On six or seven occasions he has sought a seat on the City Council, each time unsuccessfully. Last year he received 254 votes in the aldermanic poll.

The main interest in the civic election contest which ends at the polls on December 5 will be the battle for council seats with more than a half dozen strong candidates battling for the five places. Those already announced are: Aldermen F. R. Brown, Alex. Peckham, William Worthington and W. D. Todd, who will seek re-election; R. A. C. Dewar and T. W. C. Hawkins, former aldermen, and Ed. Williams, Arthur Hinder and Mrs. Alice McGregor.

John Wood is the only entrant in the field for school trustee, and there is a possibility of nominations for all seats on the School Board.

Only a week remains to nomination day, which is December 7. In the belief that a speech-weary public is not expecting arduous civic campaign, after the long provincial fight, candidates will make the election short and snappy. The City Council as a whole is making plans for a meeting in council chamber, probably during election week, when an account of stewardship will be given.

PRIEST'S MONEY DEBATE SCORED

Rev. J. L. Belford of New York, Says Rev. C. E. Coughlin of Royal Oak, Mich., Errs

Associated Press
Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Rev. John L. Belford, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church of the Nativity, today termed Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Canadian-born priest of Royal Oak, Mich., an "infernal nuisance," and expressed the belief the Apostolic Delegate from the Vatican would be forced to stop his wild ranting that is a disgrace to the Church.

Father Belford, regarded as an outstanding priest in Brooklyn, said: "He has gone mad with popularity. He is a public enemy—a very dangerous man." DESCRIBED AS NERFISH

"He is using his church as a soap box to exploit himself, and he has won an enormous following. His talks are not religious but political and purely selfish."

"The Catholic clergy in Detroit have no use for him. Members of his own church, despite him. Indicative of what he is the fact that he came from Canada (he was born in Hamilton, Ontario) because he could make a better living here."

"The bishop is worse than he is. The bishop has it in his power to stop him, and he has not done so, although he has been appealed to by the outstanding ecclesiastics in this country."

"I believe the time has come when the Apostolic Delegate will step in and stop this wild ranting that is disgraceful to the Church."

CONNELL AS C.C.F. LEADER

Is Advocated For Leadership By Many of His Supporters in Victoria

Discussion Arises as to Selection For Leader of Opposition

Hopes have been voiced by many supporters of Rev. Robert Connell that, as the successful C.C.F. candidate in the capital city, he will be named leader of the opposition in the next British Columbia Legislature.

Mr. Connell, it is claimed by his supporters, has qualifications equal to those of any of the seven elected; is an experienced debater and would be a capable leader of the federation in the House.

W. A. Pritchard, who was leading the party in the province, Dr. Lyle Telford and W. M. Lefaux were regarded as the three from whom the choice for leader of the opposition would be made. All three went down to defeat at the polls.

YOUNG MAN POLED HIGH

Should the choice be made on the number of votes polled, Harold Winch, the twenty-five-year-old C.C.F. candidate who will be the youngest member in the House, would be leader of the opposition. Incidentally, his father, E. Winch, would be among the members.

Cut In Assessment Set At $2,645,145

Final Figures on 1934 Roll Compiled Showing Big Relief For Land

Shifting of Tax Burden Shown By Records; Taxation Peak Load Passed

Final revised figures on the 1934 city assessment roll were announced this morning by George A. Okeil, the city assessment commissioner. The drop in net assessments, which is the figure reacting vitally upon the mill rate, is $2,645,145, practically all off the land assessments. This means a substantial cut in taxation for land owners next year, providing the City Council is able to reach its objective of holding the mill rate at this year's level of forty-one mills.

Following are the comparative figures on gross and net assessments for the two years.

Land	$31,190,176	$28,128,621
Impts.	46,792,925	46,792,825
Total	$77,983,101	$74,921,446
NET ASSESSMENTS
Land	$24,704,136	$22,170,541
Impts.	32,774,800	32,663,280
Total	$57,478,936	$54,833,791
Decrease in total net assessment, $2,645,145.
Decrease in net land assessment, $2,645,145.
Decrease in net improvement assessment, $111,550.

The figures are interesting by comparison with those of twenty years ago when the net land assessment was $59,000,000.

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 29.—President Roosevelt is going on with his objective of a United States commodity dollar, it was emphasized today at the "Little White House" here in making plain no particular significance was attached here to the visit of Governor Black of the Federal Reserve Board.

It was made plain Mr. Roosevelt was going toward his objective without change, but as conditions might dictate. In other words, the President does not regard daily actions on the gold purchase programme as significant. He was pictured as amused at stories which deduced significance from the rise in the price of gold or from Another step towards starting industrial revival by government initiative was taken by Premier Pattullo today. Fifty Men Taken in Series of Raids on Night Resorts; Score Held For Investigation; Terminal City To Be Made Too Hot For Outlaws

Chief John Cameron and Deputy-Chief John Murdoch early this morning led squads totaling some forty officers in a descent on clubs of various nature which remain open all night and on other places where suspicious characters might be found.

Some fifty men who could give no satisfactory account of themselves were picked up and taken to the police station, but a majority of them were allowed to go later.

The raids followed reports that criminals and petty law-breakers were flocking into Vancouver with the coming of the winter season from Eastern Canada and the United States.

STRICT CAMPAIGN

"These raids are the start of a vigorous campaign to suppress crime of all degrees," stated Chief Cameron. "We will continue the raids until we make it too hot for criminals and law-breakers to remain in Vancouver."

No disclosures were announced today's raids beyond the fact that a score of men were being held, the purpose, it was stated, being to forestall the start of any possible crime wave and to discourage law-breakers from coming here.

Downtown cafes, poolrooms and many "underworld joints" were raided by the police squad in the surprise move this morning.

bers sitting under his leadership. The son, who held a Victoria business diploma, the campaign of the changed conditions a man experienced and the different attitude of the people towards him when, as in his own case, a man on relief became a member of the Legislature, recorded the highest vote of any C.C.F. candidate. A total of 10,857 electors in Vancouver, that marked their ballot for him. Japsa was next on the C.C.F. list in the number of votes recorded with 6,831. The other candidates elected are E. E. Winch, Burnaby; R. B. Swaine, Delta; H. E. Anderson, Vancouver North; and Ernest Sidwell, Mackenzie.

KEEN DEBATER
Mr. Connell, who was the only one elected of the four C.C.F. candidates in Victoria, and who had a wide margin of votes over his running mates, was a Church of England minister until seven or eight years ago. Since then he has been a teacher at a boys' school in Victoria and a writer on botany and geology, in both of which sciences he is an expert. An amateur explorer and enthusiastic hiker, he has written many interesting articles from the viewpoint of a naturalist touring Vancouver Island. During his connection with the Church of England Mr. Connell established himself as a forceful preacher of eloquent sermons quietly but effectively delivered. Though he has not been long in public life, apart from the church, he has long been known as an advocate of the cause of the masses and, although many may not agree with his views, his sincerity is unquestioned.

Great Progress In Seventy-five Years

were associated with the first hospital were Doctors Ash, Dixon, Davis, Hugh, Powell and Trimble. After being located at the corner of Yates and Broad Streets for a year the hospital was moved in 1859 to the Bonhomme Indian Reserve and remained there for ten years. Ambulance service was horse-drawn in those days. MOVE TO PANDORA STREET
In 1869 the hospital, amalgamated with the Female Infirmary and moved to Pandora Street where the infirmary was situated. The hospital remained on that site for twenty-one years until 1890 when the move to the present building took place. Dr. John Chapman Davis Jr. was the medical officer at the Pandora Street building for twenty years and received an annual salary of $100.

In 1899 the Royal Hospital, as it was still called, became the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital. The old building, which now houses some of the administrative offices and several wards, served as the only building. Around 1920 or 1921 the board of directors felt that expansion was not only imperative but would be cheaper than to wait for a few years. Accordingly plans and specifications were drawn up and work was started on the new wing.

NEW WING OPENED
On March 11, 1925 the late Premier John Oliver presided at the opening ceremonies and the east wing was formally opened to the public. Since that time further alterations have been made. The nurses were moved from their old building to the new home on Richmond Road, which was opened in 1930.

MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENTS
Prominent members of Victoria's medical fraternity have acted as medical superintendents of the hospital since its inception. The list from 1890 reads as follows: Dr. W. A. Richardson, 1890-96; now conducting a private practice at Campbell River; Dr. A. E. Hesel, 1896-1900; Dr. M. E. Rogers, 1900-01; now practicing at Chemainus; Dr. Patterson, 1901-02; Dr. A. E. Hesel, 1902-03; Dr. E. M. Pearce, 1903-05; Dr. T. W. Walker, who takes charge on Friday.

BOARD CHAIRMEN
Some of Victoria's most prominent citizens have acted on the board of directors. The chairmen of the various boards from 1890 to the present day were: Thomas R. Smith, 1890-91; Joshua Davies, 1891-93; Charles Hayward, 1893-94; Joshua Davies, 1894-97; Alex. Wilson, 1897-99; H. D. Helmreich, 1899-1901; C. A. Holland, 1901-03; Robert

S. Day, 1903-05; James Forman, 1905-07; P. B. Pemberton, 1907-09; D. E. Campbell, 1909-13; Robert S. Day, 1913-20; George McGregor, 1920-31; H. Shandley, 1931-33, and S. J. Drake, 1933-34.

Murphy, is maintained, and the pathological laboratory, directed by Dr. David Balfour, is the public laboratory for Vancouver Island. Diet kitchens on every floor are maintained and the operating rooms of the fifth floor contain many of the latest inventions, including the electric knife for almost bloodless surgery. There are at the present time 300 beds in the hospital. A suitable celebration commemorating the passing of three-quarters of a century since the foundation will be made by hospital authorities and the medical profession, of Victoria at a later date.

HON. I. TOKUGAWA GOES TO OTTAWA

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 29.—Hon. Iyemasa Tokugawa, Japanese Minister to Canada, left here today for the last lap of his return trip to Ottawa following a seven-month leave in the Orient before entraining, he was a luncheon guest of the Japs Society.

Officials of Three States at Grips With Lynch Outbreaks

"As the four carried him struggling down the stairs other members of the mob followed, kicking and beating the prisoner. They cheered, shouted and cursed.

"He was taken through the north grill door of the jail, which had been wrecked by means of a huge truck.

"At the suggestion of someone he was rushed about a block away to a huge tree across from the courthouse lawn.

"Reaching the tree, a rope was brought up and placed about the victim's neck. He attempted to talk, but shouts of 'String him up,' drowned out his pleas.

"It was over in a few minutes.

USED GASOLINE

"A group of men then rushed to an oil station across the street and obtained some gasoline, with which they soaked the body. Torches were applied.

"Later a big fire was built under the body.

"This burned the rope in two and the body fell to the ground. Souvenir hunters rushed forward and began cutting off pieces of the Negro's clothing."

"When Warner appeared in court yesterday and sought an early arraignment on the charge of attacking the girl of twenty-one, member of a prominent family, he said:

"I'm ready to plead guilty," Judge J. V. Gladys, however, directed the case to be taken up to-day. "I don't want to rush things," the judge said.

The mob began forming at dusk. Stones were hurled at the jail.

The greater violence followed.

SAN JOSE GRAND JURY
San Jose, Cal., Nov. 29.—A new county grand jury was ordered sworn here to-day. District Attorney Fred Thomas said it was "not expected" to take any action against the men who last Sunday evening lynched Thomas H. Thurmond and John Holmes, self-confessed abductors of Brooke Hart. He previously had stated the grand jury would be "compelled to take action on the lynching if corroborated statements are presented." Officers said there appeared little likelihood of this.

BY AFFIDAVIT
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 29.—David C. Winn-Brenner, Secretary of State, announced in Annapolis to-day that affidavits of witnesses against the Princess Anne lynch suspects would be delivered at Princess Anne this afternoon and that the witnesses themselves would not be sent.

A hearing for the release of two alleged participants in the negro lynching at Princess Anne, October 18, on habeas corpus writs to-day laid the way for Attorney-General William Preston Lane to make public the evidence on which he sought the arrest of the lynching mob.

William H. Thompson and Irving Adkins, residents of Princess Anne, were to be returned to their home where they are being held by Sheriff Luther Daugherty and three deputies and escorted by Harry C. Martin, warden of the Baltimore jail.

The hearing, set for 3 p.m. before Judge Robert R. Duer, presented the opportunity for the Attorney-General to reveal his information. He had declared he did not want to take it into the secret deliberations of the grand jury.

AFTER FIGHT
Thompson, a druggist, and Adkins, a special officer, with William F. Hearn of Shad Point and William E. McGee of Pocomoke City, were brought to the Baltimore jail late yesterday after 300 national guardsmen, sent by Governor Albert C. Ritchie, routed off an infuriated crowd at Salisbury, which sought to free the four prisoners. Reports came out of Princess Anne that the grave of George Armwood, the negro who was lynched, was being dug by a white woman and who was lynched last month, had been "tampered with" by a crowd late yesterday evening.

NO SUIT PLANNED
San Jose, Cal., Nov. 29.—Published reports that members of the family of Thomas H. Thurmond, one of the Brooke Hart kidnappers, who were lynched, were preparing to file suit against Governor William G. Knowlton, who was branded as "absolute liar" to-day by Rev. R. J. Thurmond, brother of the lynching victim.

He declared that such action had not been discussed at any time by the family.

THURMOND FUNERAL
San Jose, Cal., Nov. 29.—A burial permit was issued and immediate arrangements made for the funeral to-day of Thomas H. Thurmond, one of the Brooke Hart kidnappers, who with John M. Holmes, was lynched at Salisbury, Pa. Sunday evening for the kidnapping and slaying of Brooke Hart.

The permit called for interment of the body of Thurmond in the same cemetery as the body of John M. Holmes, who was buried Monday, Oak Hill Memorial Park. The Thurmond funeral service would be private, it was said.

Arrangements for the funeral of the body of Holmes remained incomplete to-day.

151,990 and the net improvement assessment $26,203,940 and the total $15,855,930. This was the time when boom prices prevailed for land and it will be noted the land assessment has dropped by 76 per cent. On the other hand the value of improvements has risen by nearly $6,000,000, or almost 25 per cent.

It also explains, of course, the difference between tax rates of twenty years ago and of the present time. Although the tax rate in 1914 was twenty mills on land alone, it produced over $1,700,000, and this year's levy of 41 mills was designed to produce about $1,748,000, so that actually Victoria is being operated at 50-day upon the same taxation levy it was at the beginning of the war. In the intervening years the cash levy dropped as low as $1,200,000, especially during the war and just afterwards, but the period of reconstruction starting in 1922 began an increase which again raised the levy, the peak load falling last year, when the rate was designed to produce $1,221,990.

In the eighteen-year period between the peak taxation years of 1914 and 1932 there has been a marked shing of the tax load, however. In 1914 the full burden fell upon land, both vacant and improved. This system prevailed until 1922, when one-third of the improvement values were taxed. This has slowly risen until to-day 60 per cent of improvements are taxed. At the same time land assessments have been dropping and improvements increasing and the spread of the tax load, based upon the 1934 assessments, will make it almost equal on land and buildings, the proportions being: land 49 per cent and improvements 47 per cent.

U.S. Using Liquor Imports to Bargain For Export Trade

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Over 40,000,000 gallons of Canadian liquor is ageing in bond awaiting the end of prohibition in the United States. The announcement from Washington that the demand for intoxicants in the republic might be used as a bargaining force to get, in return, better tariff treatment of United States goods in the liquor-exporting countries, accordingly, was received in Ottawa with keen interest. The announcement did not come, however, as a surprise. It had been learned that for some days Hon. W. B. Hurd, Canadian Minister of Agriculture, had been in touch with this proposal. However, officials declined to comment on what the outcome would be.

NOT AGED YET
Until the United States distilleries have time to age their newly manufactured liquor, the demand for foreign liquors is expected to be heavy.

With such a market as a prize, the proposal is to tell countries which wish to participate in it they must lower their tariffs against United States goods going back in return.

The discussions in Washington and other parts of the republic as condensed here indicate France is the chief country to be benefited. Canada is a big customer of the United States all the time and it is not anticipated there will be any great difficulties to an understanding on the liquor export.

MEETING DELAYED
Montreal, Nov. 29.—The annual meetings of shareholders in Canadian distilleries have all been postponed until the Washington administration gives definite words as to what the position of importers of liquor into the United States will be, it was learned here to-day.

Distillers offered no immediate comment on the statement of Edward G. Lowry, economic adviser of the United States Treasury Department, that the Washington government would control imports and quotas would be applied to exporting countries. According to reports in the financial district, however, meetings of directors have been called to consider the situation and no dividend meetings will be held until the position of the exporters has been clarified.

Big Atom-bursting Experiment Is Seen

Scientists at South Dartmouth, Mass., Make Use of 7,000,000 Volts of Electricity

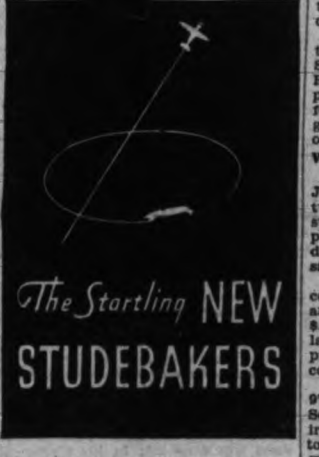

By Paul V. Cochrane,
Associated Press Staff Writer
South Dartmouth, Mass., Nov. 29.—To the roar of thunderous reverberations that rolled through the lofty space of an airship hangar here, nearly five times more continuous direct current voltage than has been generated before in the history of the world was sent crackling into space yesterday evening.

A little group of scientists and newspapermen watched in awe as science's latest siege gun, two big spherical atom-bursting terminals mounted on tall columns of insulation, barked away at each other with 7,000,000 volts of spitting electricity.

It was a day of triumph for thirty-two-year-old Dr. Robert J. Van de Graff, research associate in the department of physics of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who for the last six years had worked on the development of a machine which would wrest from the atom the secret of its internal construction.

SPECTACULAR as was the demonstration, it was only the first step in a path that Van de Graff and his associates believe will lead to the exploration of a field of extraordinary scientific significance. The "voltage" which went hurtling from one to the other of the great spherical terminals will soon be harnessed and put to work.

Eventually Van de Graff and his associates hope this disintegration of atoms may shed an entirely new light on the structure of matter and the transmutation of elements, and lead to a more complete knowledge of cosmology.

SASKATCHEWAN WATER SCHEME

Irrigation and Power Proposals Laid Before Prairie and Federal Governments

Canadian Press
Moose Jaw, Nov. 29.—Proposal for a $15,000,000 irrigation scheme for southern Saskatchewan has been laid before the Saskatchewan Government and the Dominion Government, according to three Moose Jaw residents, A. W. Ellison, Fawkes, W. R. Bennett and A. E. Martin. The three men decline to say who is backing the scheme but claim the money will be provided if they obtain governmental permission to proceed with the plan.

Water supplies for Regina and Moose Jaw would be provided, should these two cities require such supplies. Water supply for Saskatoon would not be impaired, but improved in times of drought, under the plan, its backers say.

The project would employ 1,500 men continuously for two or three years, and 70 per cent of the cost, or about $10,000,000, would be paid out for labor. The area to be served by the proposed irrigation facilities would comprise 1,000,000 acres.

Application for the right to divert 975,000 acre-feet of water from the South Saskatchewan at Riverhurst for irrigation purposes has been forwarded to both the Regina and Ottawa Government officials, the three backers of the plan state.

Japan May Enter Into Discussion With U.S. as Preliminary to 1935 Meeting

Associated Press
Tokyo, Nov. 29.—Direct discussions on naval affairs between the United States and Japan in 1934, preliminary to the 1935 conference for which the London Treaty provides, were indicated officially to-day as a strong possibility.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Foreign Minister Koki Hirota strongly believed the most effective and most hopeful way to approach the difficult situation anticipated at the 1935 conference would be a preliminary bilateral discussion on naval differences between the two powers.

WRONG PERSON IS ABDUCTED

Chicago Kidnapers Get Only $11 Out of Chauffeur Taken By Mistake For Master.

Associated Press
Chicago, Nov. 29.—Abductors had to be content with $11 to-day instead of the $20,000 they demanded because police said they had made a mistake in identity and kidnapped the intended victim's chauffeur.

The whole affair was over in two hours yesterday evening and aside from disturbing the slumber of Thomas E. Maloy, head of the Motion Picture Operators' Union, and costing George Graham, twenty-eight, his chauffeur, $11 and some anxious moments, it had no other immediate effects.

However, police said they saw in it an attempt to abduct Maloy himself or his son, a student at Morgan Park Military Academy. Graham was seized while putting the Maloy automobile in the garage.

Later, before he turned up again at the Maloy residence, Maloy himself received several telephone calls demanding $20,000 ransom.

Government Upheld on Opening Tests at New Sitting of Commons

London, Nov. 29.—The House of Commons yesterday evening voted down the Liberal amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne by a majority of 147.

The two divisions came after Dr. E. L. Burgin, National Liberal parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, had defended the government following criticism offered by the Liberals led by Sir Herbert Samuel. The Liberal amendment expressed regret the speech from the Throne showed no definite policy to promote restoration of world trade or to develop resources and equipment of the United Kingdom.

Improvement in British trade in October was phenomenal, said Dr. Burgin, as proof the government was successful in bringing about restoration of industry. He cited the coal, iron, steel, engineering, motor car, cotton and wool industries. The figures for overseas trade were equally satisfactory, he declared.

British policy, said Dr. Burgin, was to exploit to the fullest possible degree the procuring and holding of markets by agreements, without tackling too many countries at one time.

ALFRED E. SMITH DEFENDS COURSE

New Yorker Says Rev. C. E. Coughlin in Error in Monetary Policy Debate

By R. H. HIPPELHEUSER
Associated Press Staff Writer
New York, Nov. 29.—Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin's defence of President Roosevelt's monetary policies echoed to-day in three dominating developments.

1. Alfred E. Smith, whom the Canadian-born priest described as the "outstanding Catholic layman in America," declared the Detroit priest had made an "absolutely false" statement in charging "my position on the monetary question was in any way affected by any loan from J. P. Morgan."

2. Mgr. Thomas O. Carroll, chancellor of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York, said the priest's attack on former Governor Smith was "absolutely unwarranted."

3. Before returning to his Shrine of the Little Flower at Detroit, Father Coughlin said he had further plans to defend the administration's money programme, but said he would not address meetings in any diocese if the diocesan authorities did not approve.

The former New York governor—who described what he termed "baloney dollars" and the "guinea pig" experimentation of the Roosevelt administration in a recent magazine editorial—characterized as "absolutely false" Father Coughlin's story that Smith had given him received a large loan for his office building from Morgan.

Gloomy Dean Sees No Progress

London, Nov. 29.—Dean Inge dealt with the future of the human race and the question whether we shall ever colonize Mars, at a "conversation tea." "London may be 100 feet under water 30,000 years hence, and another ice age is due at some period which may make these islands uninhabitable," he said.

"I don't think we shall ever colonize Mars or Venus, or that we shall ever be invaded from those planets. "Our race has not intrinsically made any progress since the discovery of tools. Skulls found 40,000 years ago seemed to have brains as good as our own."

He said he should like to see Britain say, 1,000 years hence, with the population kept about half what it is now, living mainly in villages and small towns, except London.

HUNT FOR LIQUOR RUNNERS WIDENS

Quebec, Nov. 29.—Warrants for the arrest of forty more persons in connection with operations of an alleged million-dollar liquor smuggling ring uncovered by Royal Canadian Mounted Police early this month will be issued before end of the week. It is understood here. Officials at the Quebec headquarters of the R.C.M.P. declined, however, to comment on the report.

Seven persons already have appeared in court here in connection with operation of the ring. Warrants for the arrest of fifteen men believed by police to be connected with the ring were issued some time ago and police are actively attempting to complete their round-up.

He had been hunting. Shipkula came to the district last spring from the southern Alberta coal fields.

CYCLISTS AND TRAFFIC

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for drawing attention once more to the carelessness and frequent disregard of traffic regulations on the part of bicycle riders in this city. It is pointed out that in numerous instances cyclists have been known to cut in directly ahead of motorists where it would have been impossible for the brakes of the car to be applied in time to avert an accident if the cyclists were at a disadvantage.

There is reason to believe that some bicycle riders—and this by no means applies only to the younger generation—challenge motorists for speed and position out of sheer bravado, while in other cases, of course, recklessness may be the result of ignorance and lack of appreciation of the risks being run. There are cases, too, where bicycle riders overtake pedestrians on the sidewalk when a step on the latter's part either to the right or left might easily mean injury.

Admittedly it is just as difficult to control careless bicycle riders as it is to control pedestrians who run unnecessary risks. Infractions of well-defined regulations, however, should be dealt with promptly and effectively wherever possible. It is a matter for co-operation all round. If ordinary caution be exercised by cyclists, pedestrians and motorists, traffic accidents will be reduced to the minimum.

ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT BY-ELECTION

Another by-election in Great Britain emphasizes the continued heavy reduction in Conservative ballots. Polling took place in the Harborough division of Leicestershire yesterday and although the Conservative candidate held the seat for the government, his vote was more than 10,000 less than his predecessor polled at the general election in 1931. The details follow:

Ronald Tree, Conservative.....19,220
W. Bennett, Labor.....22,460
W. Carey Wilson, Liberal.....6,144

The contest two years ago was one between a Conservative and Laborite, and that resulted as follows: Conservative, 29,790 votes; Laborite, 10,212 votes, a Conservative majority of 17,578.

Harborough was the thirtieth by-election to be fought since the general election of 1931. Twenty-six have remained unchanged, although where a government supporter has been returned it has been with a very sharply-reduced majority. In three, Labor recaptured seats lost two years ago, and the remaining one was a Labor victory in the traditionally Conservative seat of East Fulham.

From 1906 until 1918 Harborough was represented in the House of Commons by a Liberal, the 1910 election giving the winner a majority of 1,077. Only on one occasion since the war has this riding returned a Liberal, and that was in the tariff election of 1923, when the victor had a majority of a little more than 1,300. In 1924, in a three-cornered contest, a Conservative recaptured the seat with a substantial margin over the combined total of his two opponents. It was a comfortable victory in a three-cornered fight in 1929, and, as already noted above, a walk-over in 1931. Yesterday's verdict, however, is in keeping with what has been taking place in the contests of the last few weeks.

In all these by-elections the country's foreign policy and disarmament have attracted very considerable attention. There seems to be general dissatisfaction with the government's handling of these matters. In each of these contests the Conservative vote has revealed a reduction of between eight and ten thousand votes. The significance of such a substantial slump in the government's stock can not be ignored by the MacDonald ministry.

SHOWING THE WORLD

In a world in which nations have shut themselves off from one another by tariff walls it is refreshing to learn that thirty-eight countries have agreed to adopt free trade in educational films—an important decision in which the League of Nations has been instrumental. It is an example of the minor service in the cause of better international relations which the organization at Geneva can render.

Films entitled to the freedom of exchange will be submitted to the Educational Film Institute set up by the League and, if approved, will be certified. We are told also that this body from time to time will publish a catalogue of films it has approved, which should be valuable to those in all countries that appreciate the substantial uses which can be made of films for other than purely entertainment and propaganda purposes.

Those nations which have reached an agreement on this exchange, will, within six months of the coming into force of the convention, exempt from all customs duties and accessory charges of any kind in respect of importation, permanent or temporary, films of international educational character. This is a fairly wide category and should permit the exchange of a good deal of interesting and instructive material. Scientific and technical films are specified as well as films dealing with health questions, with social welfare, and, indeed, with any subject intended for use in education of all grades.

It ought to be safe to say that this is a trading arrangement which will be of very considerable benefit all round. There ought to be no hesitation in making full use of it in order that the panorama of the world's work and play may be constantly before the world's public. A better understanding of the lives of the peoples and the scenes in which they work and live should help to counter the mistakes of politicians which often have led in the past to international suspicion and war.

UP IN THE CLOUDS

"It will be a long time before we have state medicine in this country so far as the Dominion is concerned," Premier Bennett, speaking at the annual banquet of the Royal Canadian College of Physicians and Surgeons, at Ottawa.

The Prime Minister followed up the foregoing statement by saying that he could not conceive of a new and expanding country fostering that state of mind or developing a system of state medicine for the nation as a whole. What the provinces might do within their own jurisdiction, of course, was a different matter, and difficult to ascertain, he added. But Mr. Bennett went so far as to say, however, that the Dominion government would lend its assistance to the extent of its power in those efforts which the Dominion and the physicians had in common—the happiness and the health of the people.

Mr. Bennett may be quite right in saying that there will be no state medicine as long as he is the leader of the government at Ottawa. But he should not be too positive about the matter in its general sense. Next year, or the year after at latest, he will have to render an account of his stewardship to the Canadian people. How he will fare is suggested by what has taken place in Nova Scotia, in British Columbia, in the federal by-elections in New Brunswick, in Quebec, and in Saskatchewan.

The very definite statement of the Prime Minister that "it will be a long time before we have state medicine in this country" is somewhat difficult to reconcile with the accompanying statement implying that the Dominion is much concerned about the happiness and health of the people.

It must be difficult for a man of wealth to try to put himself in the place of the working man with a family who has the misfortune to fall ill and is hard put to find the wherewithal to meet his doctor's bill, or, perhaps, a hospital bill as well. If the Prime Minister of this country wants to preserve the happiness and health of the people of Canada, he will see to it that proper facilities are brought within the reach of the ordinary citizen. Platitudes will never heal the sick.

A PREACHER AND NRA

"Many writers and speakers have been pointing out that only men of moral integrity can make the present recovery programme function. While it is true to-day as always that you can not make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, we must remember that the qualities which enter into human relations need to be instrumented." So writes the Rev. Edgar L. Heermance, a well-known preacher, in The Congressionalist of America.

"We have been so engrossed with the individual and his character," Mr. Heermance proceeds, "that we have lost sight of the social group, which largely shapes the individual's standards and habits. In business our main task is to establish a system that will release and build up honesty and fair dealing rather than the opposite."

The code movement already has certain outstanding achievements to its credit. Child labor has been abolished, probably for all time. The needle trades, through the co-operation of the unions, are driving out the sweatshop. The lumber industry has committed itself to the policy of conservation and sustained production. Mr. Heermance then continues:

"The chaotic oil industry is being stabilized. Peace and some degree of order are coming to soft coal after a generation of tragic strife. In retail trade, extravagant advertising claims and predatory price-cutting are being put under the ban. For many of the minor industries, the results achieved or in prospect are hardly less notable."

"The question is often raised whether this country is headed for State Socialism. If we define our terms accurately, the answer is 'No.' We still hold to the system of private property and enterprise, even if we are now clothing them with a public interest. The emphasis of the Recovery Act is on partnership with government rather than dictatorship by government; on voluntary agreement rather than compulsion."

"Although much of the old business order is going by the board, we are not scrapping the competitive system. But from now on it will tend to be regulated competition, a self-government by each industry under federal supervision."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE SENSIBLE VIEW
The St. Catharines Standard

There may be a partisan spirit among certain people and newspapers in Canada which will be around to make political capital out of the verbal conflict of Canada's High Commissioner in London with the British Board of Trade over the timber provisions in the Ottawa Trade Treaty, but the fact that Hon. Howard Ferguson is battling for vital interests of his country, including the thousands of workers in the bush should be a matter of downright satisfaction. If Mr. Ferguson were playing the role of a social lion in London rather than a keenly diligent representative of his country he would prove a big disappointment to everyone. But by and large, his verbal duel with British red tape is not very important. The Ottawa Journal takes the sensible view that these little squabbles are not to be taken seriously.

BALANCING THE BUDGET
The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix

The British government has given encouragement chiefly by balancing its budget—a balance made possible by the huge conversion operation which wiped millions of pounds off the annual fixed charges of government. Altogether expenditures have been reduced by some 48,000,000 pounds sterling, mostly in eliminating interest payments. It is worthy of note that recovery in Australia was preceded by a conversion operation which took care of practically the entire debt of the Commonwealth. If there is a lesson for Canada in this, it is that the budget must be balanced, and if it is impossible, as seems obvious, to do so by the ordinary means, a conversion operation must be pushed forward on a larger scale than has yet been attempted. It will be remembered that Parliament at its last session authorized a loan of $750,000,000 for conversion purposes, but the recent issue provided for the conversion of less than $200,000,000 of debt.

Loose Ends

Viola hopes for too much—the nations display a wondrous logic—we think we are tough, but look at our great grandfathers—and even the birds have it now.

By H. B. W.

VIOLA

VIOLA TREE, the eminent British actress, has lately complained in print (for which, I have no doubt, she was well paid on account of her name and not her ideas) that modern cosmetics are too perfect. She says they make all women appear beautiful so that the real beauties have no opportunity to display their superior glories. Their plain sisters, dolled up in similar fashion, are just as easy to look at. "It isn't fair, it really is not," says Viola. "I would like, if possible, to see the living beauties given a chance to compete with the painted beauties. They could forego powder and lipstick for a day, and all their enhancing cosmetics and then see what they looked like beside true beauty."

It seems a reasonable proposition and might be a sobering lesson for all of us. I mean, it might make us realize how much uglier the world about us could be. Probably we could get used to it in time. We have got used to the present spectacle and endure it hardly enough. And most men live with reasonable comfort while looking across the dinner table for years and years and years at a face as homely as their own. Surprisingly few of them go in for murder or violence.

But Viola will never get anywhere with her crusade. The plainest women won't yield a powder puff or a lipstick to the fairest of plain people. The beauty (now one of the great industries of the United States, absorbing several billions of dollars a year) there is a fierce democracy, a frenzied pursuit of absolute equality, which you will never find in politics. If there were half the equality in the distribution of the world's wealth as there is in the distribution of its beauty and lipstick, our entire economic problem would be solved. But you can't get women to worry about economics as they do about cosmetics. They would far rather be beautiful than wealthy. Alas, most of them, despite Viola, are neither.

LOGIC

A FELLOW has invented a floating airship so that air service across the Atlantic may be put on a regular basis, as doubtless it will be over every other ocean. This is in furtherance of that splendid logic with which all nations conduct their foreign policies in these logical times. Everywhere they are building up huge tariff walls which no trade can get over and everywhere they are building ships of the air and sea to get over them. Germany launches the fastest liner. Italy is building one to go faster. France has one under way that will be still faster. In England they are getting ready to finish a Cunarder to put them all in the shade. The higher the tariff walls, the faster the machines to carry goods over them and, next day, the higher the tariff walls. The better equipped the nations become to carry on trade, the less trade there is.

If they took down the tariff walls maybe they wouldn't need to spend so much on implements designed to get over them. Maybe, also, they would be able to afford their implements which they can't now. In building ships and methods of communication before they have found out how to use them, the nations are following the same plan as the little girl next door who has lately completed a stable made of old boxes, for a pony, though she has no prospect of getting the pony. But then, the nations have never been as intelligent in their international affairs as the little girl next door.

REALISM

THIS GENERATION is rather proud of its public lawfulness as expressed in the current stage, motion picture screen and novel. It imagines that it

"FANCY DRESS" AT WEDDINGS SCORED

London, Nov. 29.—A correspondent of a Metropolitan daily says: "It is a wonder that no parody has been made by church authorities against the increasing use of 'fancy dress' at society weddings. The costumes worn by bridesmaids and pages at some weddings give the impression that the proceedings have some relation to the Chelsea Arts Ball, or that the 'Bright Young Things' have had a hand in it."

It is made of sterner stuff than Victorianism, more realistic, better able to call a spade a spade. But the other day a fellow dug up the first American novel, published in 1789, and called "The Power of Sympathy; or The Triumph of Nature." Under this highly-moral title it packed a sizeable wallop and a good deal more sex than Eugene O'Neill's "Strange Interlude." Just read the official summary of the book, and observe how little we have progressed, and how little harder we have become since that day. Here it is as published in The American Review:

"Martin seduces Ophelia—the commits suicide. Williams abducts Fidelity—she, her mother, her lover and her kidnaper, are united in death. A mysterious villain betrays Elizabeth—she and her infant lie side by side in the churchyard. The elder Harrington in his rash youth seduces Maria. Long years thereafter he meets Harriett, the blushing female, whom his son is about to marry. She, alas, is the image of the wronged Maria; young Harrington has all but married his half-sister! Acutely disappointed to find a brother where she looked for a husband, the amorous Harriett exclaims: 'O, I sink, I die, when I reflect—when I find in my Harrington a brother—I am penetrated with inexpressible grief—I experience uncommon sensations—I start with horror at the idea of incest—of ruin—of perdition.' And yet she adds ambiguously: 'How I do lament this fatal discovery!' At length she goes mad and dies of grief. Thereupon young Harrington, equally disappointed, shoots himself in the head." It was about time he did.

O'Neill never did anything riper. The movies never had more seductions or suicides. Even that ultra-modern invention, the kidnaper, is there. This is the kind of stuff that inspired the unsullied souls of our great grandfathers and great grandmothers. Yet we think we are tough.

BIRDS, TOO

THE AMERICAN Ornithologists' Union has just announced the discovery that birds suffer from moodiness, mental depressions and that peculiar luxury of twentieth century civilization, the inferiority complex. You see, therefore, how quickly men communicate their diseases to others, for the inferiority complex was only discovered about twenty years ago. No one ever enjoyed it when I was a boy and we had to struggle along as best we could. Now the sparrow outside your window can share it with a millionaire.

Our present state of mind, with all its melancholia, inferiority, and general corruption is due, as every economist will tell you, to the depression and the economic system. Yet now we find that the birds, who have no economic system at all, suffer from these same complaints. It is just beginning to occur to me that perhaps men's state of mind may not be due entirely to economics and the law of supply and demand. If it is possible to be miserable, as the birds are, when you have no economic system, perhaps some day we shall discover a way of being happy even with one. At the moment, I confess, it seems a little doubtful.

As a matter of fact, granted a living and assured that he won't starve, a man's moods don't depend much on economics, anyway. After a while we may sense the obvious truth that no improvement in economics will make us happy. This will be proved when property returns, for then, to general surprise, most men will be no happier than they are now. They will only be a little crasier, as they were last time.

A CHILDHOOD FRIEND

A letter from a friend I knew
Three full decades ago
The years, what have they done to you?
What bright? What blossoms blow?
Small friend, it must be you have drained
Life's bitter with the sweet
That you, as well as I, have gained
Some courage from defeat.
To you the common dower of breath
Must, as to me, comprise
A share of rapture, love and death,
A share of smiles and sighs.
And you, I cannot feel is true
That you have changed at all
For still in thought I cherish you,
The child of years gone by!

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

ELECTION SPONTANEOUS CHEERS

To the Editor:—In fair play will you be good enough to publish a mistake in your columns of this evening's paper. The truth regarding the spontaneous outbreak of cheers occurred when the cross was marked against Mr. Connell's name, and not Mr. John Hart, as stated.

Victoria, B.C., November 18, 1933.

THANKS

To the Editor:—At the November 1 meeting of Ward 2 Non-Political Ratepayers' Association a hearty vote of thanks was passed to The Times for your ever ready support and co-operation toward our organization in advertising our meetings, etc.

Wishing your paper every success in the future, I remain, Sir, as ever,

INDEPENDENTS

To the Editor:—Mr. Robert Cassidy, K.C., in letters to the press on October 14 and 15 and on the public platform on October 22 and other places, stated that in the event of the election of an independent candidate to the Legislature, he would "contest their election in the courts."

His contention was that the nomination of such independent candidates was contrary to the provisions of section 31 of the Elections Act.

An independent candidate has been elected in the person of Mr. Herbert Ancomb. The time has therefore arrived for Mr. Cassidy to indicate to the people of Victoria whether or not he is a man of his word. It is correct a situation exists in the Elections Act which should be cleaned up without delay. Mr. Cassidy is an eminent King's Counsel and his word is as such disturbed many electors. Was Mr. Cassidy sincere and acting with reasonable grounds for the forceful statements which he made on October 22, or was he merely "elector-baiting?"

The public is entitled, as well as the candidates, to ask Mr. Cassidy for a show-down. Is it his intention to proceed in the manner which he indignantly laid down during the campaign? His actions will be awaited with much interest.

HERBERT BOOTHMAN,
Elections Agent for Dr. Clem Davies.

INTOLERANCE

To the Editor:—In ancient Persia, the people were compelled to assemble once a week in the market place to have propaganda pumped into them. No compulsion is needed to-day, and it's astonishing what intelligent people will listen to.

A recent lecturer, Sherwood Eddy, knocked the Anglo-Saxons for "intolerance of race and color," whereas the Anglo-Saxons have been more successful than any race known to history in their dealings with alien races and color. If it were not so, there would have been no British Empire.

It's a sober fact that these lecturers seldom make a statement about the Anglo-Saxon which one could not easily refute on the authority of great historians.

At Victoria College the other night the people were told that "Shakespeare was not an Elizabethan." This is the great Anglo-Saxon era robbed of its chief glory.

No less an authority than the poet Shelley has shown that Shakespeare was an Elizabethan. In the preface of his "Prometheus Unbound" (too long to quote) he shows how poets, even the loftiest, are the creations, besides being the creators, of the age in which they live, and shows the similarity between Virgil and Horace, between Shakespeare and Fletcher, between Dante and Petrarca, between Homer and Hesiod, etc.

The professor told the people at Victoria College that "nobody reads Shakespeare."

If they don't, it's the fault of the education system. The university is virtual has unlimited capacity for intellectual development, and should be taught to appreciate literature as carefully as they are taught to play a musical instrument.

Intellectual development would enable the people to cope more easily with humbug, which, being squelched, would help to allay unrest.

SALMON FISHING WILL NOT CLOSE

Vancouver, Nov. 29.—Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries, announces that salmon fishing in British Columbia, usually closed from November 30 to December 31, will be conducted this year through the month.

It has been found that a sufficient proportion of the several varieties appearing in the waters at this time have already passed to the spawning grounds. It is desired that every opportunity be given the fishermen to continue their fishing operations where they find it profitable to do so. This arrangement will permit the numerous salmon trollers to continue taking springs and cohoes, which are at present resulting in profitable occupation for a considerable number of fishermen. It will also permit a certain amount of fresh salmon to be taken by means of gill nets from such areas as the Fraser River district and the waters between Vancouver Island and the mainland generally.

Schubert Club and Burton-W. James of Seattle Beautifully Interpret "Green Pastures"

By G. J. D.

"Green Pastures" is a fable suggested by Roak Bradford, whose retelling of several Old Testament stories in "O' Man Adam an' His Chittun" first stimulated the author, Marc Connelly, in its interesting point of view. It was first performed with a large list of characters at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, on February 26, 1930. This fable is an attempt to present certain aspects of a living religion in the terms of its believers—a religion that thousands of negroes in the south share.

The dramatic readings of this miracle play, so brimful of spiritual fervor, faith in a personal Father, and sheer sincerity, were movingly presented at the Seattle Audited and in the illustrative spirituals sung by the Schubert Club. The large audience, evidently delighted in negro music and literature, can only applaud the club's enterprise in the opportunity of hearing this simple, unaffected and inspiring modern play, and the number of these beautiful plantation songs, known to us as "spirituals," the spontaneous outburst of intense religious fervor, which chiefly had their origin in the camp meeting, the revival and in other religious exercises.

PECULIAR PATHOS

In these songs abound a peculiar pathos that appeals to a personal and wide range of tastes, music that reaches the heart, because it comes from the heart. Naturally, where so many of these lovely compositions as were concerned last evening, there were those which appealed the greater, but throughout in all was there some remarkably fine singing by the Schubert Club members, and Frederic King, its founder and conductor, must be congratulated upon the club's excellent achievement.

There was no mistaking the careful preparation, and the determination of all concerned to get at the heart of things, verbally, musically and dramatically. Of the dozen spirituals sung by the club, which, by the way, has since its inception ten years ago, made a keen study of plantation songs, outstanding were "Somebody's Knocking," with solo by Mrs. Weston; "Oh, Didn't It Rain," "Nobody Knows De Trouble I've Seen," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Listen to the Lambs," with solo by Mrs. Noel; "Deep River," "Oh, Didn't It Rain," "Dem Belles," "Goin' Home," and "Were You There?"

Dr. Harry Johns was the soloist. Always a student and appreciative of all he accomplishes, his fine baritone voice, taste and feeling were alike admirable in "Roll, Jordan, Roll," "De Ole Ark's A-movin'," "De Blind Man Stood in the Road," "Death's Owine to Lay His Cold Icy Hands on Me," "De Blind Man" was a particularly fine achievement. Grace Allen was, as usual, an excellent and sympathetic accompanist, and helped considerably to make the performance an unusually interesting event.

But the two are doing New York together, now, and the report of their engagement to marry persists. But April is a long way off, and that's the earliest the two can wed, because John's divorce from Doug Fairbanks Jr. is scheduled for that month.

The church was attractively decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and greenery, tall standards of the blossoms flanking the chancel rail and making an effective background for the ceremony.

BRIDE AND ATTENDANTS

To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by the church organist, Mr. G. Jennings Burnett, the bride entered, escorted by her brother, Mr. Harry Warburton, who gave her in marriage. She made a charming picture in her wedding gown of ivory tulle and lace, with long tight-fitting sleeves, the floor-length skirt flaring at the back into a slight train. Her veil of hand-embroidered net was attached to a cap of Chantilly lace caught at the back with a strand of orange blossoms, and formed a train, and she carried a shower bouquet of lily of the valley, Opelia roses and white carnations.

There were two attendants. Mrs. Stanley Raybone was the matron of honor, in a handsome gown of navy velvet with a matching turban and veil, and the bridesmaid was Miss Anne Warburton, in a form-fitting frock of shell pink velvet with a turban and veil to match. They both carried Colonial bouquets of violets, Opelia roses and tiny single shell pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. Alex Geddes was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. James Warburton and Mr. George Fox. During the signing of the register, Miss Nan Hutton very sweetly sang "At Dawning."

RECEPTION HELD

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Emily Warburton, 850 Queen's Avenue, where large baskets, filled with white and pink chrysanthemums, were used in the charming but simple decorations of the reception room. Miss Warburton wore an attractive and becoming frock of burgundy red velvet, with turban and veil en suite, and was assisted in welcoming the guests by Mrs. A. H. Hartley, in a black lace dress and a matching hat. The three-tiered bride's cake centred the supper table, which was arranged with tall pink candles.

After a honeymoon in the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Sharp will make their home in Victoria. The bride left in a smart ensemble of electric blue, with a well-trimmed overcoat, and elegant accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. Sherratt and Mr. A. Rutherford, of Vancouver; Mrs. J. C. Proctor, of the Misses Dorothy and Julie Proctor, of Tacoma, and Mrs. Stanley Raybone, of Williams Lake.

THE WORLD'S BEST NO BETTER THAN FRASER VALLEY!

You have heard much of the superior quality of New Zealand and Danish Butter. In fact, many of you who like good Butter, have paid a premium of five to ten cents per lb. for the imported product.

Due no doubt to that peculiar twist of the mind inherent in most of us, there seems to be a glamour, an appeal to goods produced in far-away lands.

There is a tendency to attribute to imported products qualities far beyond their merits; to under-estimate and to under-value the things we make and possess.

DO YOU BRITISH COLUMBIANS KNOW?

that situated in the heart of the Fraser Valley there is a plant manufacturing a pure, fresh, SWEET CREAM BUTTER—a product of superfine quality?

This is the plant of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, farmer owned and controlled, located at Sardis, near Chilliwack.

It is not only one of the largest creameries in Canada, but is equipped with the most modern sanitary machinery for the scientific production of high-grade SWEET CREAM BUTTER.

While close to three million pounds of Butter are churned here annually, every pound is made from the best sweet cream procurable.

The bulk of the Butter churned grades SPECIALS (Finest), the highest grading possible.

SWEET CREAM BUTTER

Here Is a SUPERFINE Product!

Every Pound of Fraser Valley Butter Is Guaranteed Fresh Churned Sweet Cream

What Is Sweet Cream Butter?

Butter made from sour cream CANNOT be classed as SWEET CREAM BUTTER.

To come under the classification of SWEET CREAM the Butter must be manufactured entirely from strictly pure fresh sweet cream, absolutely free from neutralizing agents or chemicals, such as lime, soda, etc.

In the country to the south the Pure Food Act prohibits the sale of sour cream Butter under the guise of SWEET CREAM, the latter commanding a premium of several cents per pound.

Standing Invitation.....

When in the Fraser Valley District you are cordially invited to inspect our plants at Sardis and Abbotsford.

Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association

Guard Against Deception

None genuine without the words, "FRASER VALLEY SWEET CREAM."

The manufacturers of Fraser Valley SWEET CREAM BUTTER and Fraser Valley FULL CREAM CHEESE spend in British Columbia over $1,500,000 annually for wages and supplies.

Over 400 people are employed in our various producing and distributing plants.

All supplies entering into the manufacture and distribution of Fraser Valley products, such as boxes, paper, nails, tins and cartons, are produced in British Columbia.

You purchase Fraser Valley products with the full assurance your money remains in British Columbia to create work and payrolls for British Columbia people.

Please remember, we are not soliciting your patronage merely because we are British Columbia manufacturers—although, quality and prices being equal, this should merit your support—but because we manufacture SUPERIOR PRODUCTS—products that cannot be surpassed for quality by the world's best.

FRASER VALLEY SWEET CREAM BUTTER and FRASER VALLEY DAIRY MAID CHEESE are supreme.

NO EVIDENCE OF FOUL PLAY

Jury Finds Death of Chinese Woodcutter on Malahat Was Accident

Death of Chin Aek, a Chinese woodcutter in cordwood limits of the Malahat area about twenty miles north of the city, was held to be accidental by a coroner's jury at the inquest in Carter's Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon.

A description of the place where Chin's body was found, with a gunshot wound in the shoulder, was given by Sergeant Richard Harvey, B.C. police. He mentioned there was a pipe about 200 yards from the spot where the body lay which bore marks of a person recently there.

Dr. J. H. Moore, the autopsy, said the wound in Chin's shoulder, entered at the back, tore through the heart and came out on the front. It was probably made by a steel-jacketed bullet, he thought, of the kind used in rifles, having struck with considerable velocity.

Two Chinese, Sam Hing and Sam Howe, testified of Chin's life as a woodcutter, living alone.

There was no evidence given of foul play, although it was stated that the suggestion is a stray hunter's bullet struck the Chinese.

Duncan

Duncan, Nov. 29. — The Women's Auxiliary to the Duncan Hospital held the regular meeting on Monday afternoon, with the vice-president, Mrs. G. H. Savage, in the chair. Arrangements for the community bazaar on December 16 were completed. Mrs. C. H. Dickie will open the bazaar.

The annual meeting of the Cowichan Fish and Game Association was held in the agricultural hall Monday evening. Officers elected were as follows: President, T. A. Havemeyer (re-elected); vice-president, H. Rhodes (re-elected); secretary, T. Pitt (re-elected); committee, A. Johnson, Lake Cowichan; Arthur Howe, Chemainus; Major Siew, E. F. Duncan, M. Sundaby and C. W. Dunne, Duncan.

The following resolution was confirmed: "Resolved that we, residents of the Cowichan district, assembled under the auspices of the Cowichan Fish and Game Association, hereby endorse the present government policy of placing the responsibility of framing and enforcing regulations for the conservation of game in the hands of a separate game department under the direction of a commissioner; and further, we do definitely oppose to the transfer of this authority to the provincial police, and especially in view of the substantial revenue now derived from the sale of game licences which fully justifies every effort made by the government for the preservation of our game; and, further, we express the fullest confidence in the game department under Bryan Williams, the present game commissioner.

Chemainus Teams Win Three Games

Chemainus, Nov. 29.—A large crowd attended three basketball games here Monday evening when Duncan midjet girls and Shawigan Lake senior girls and men played against three Chemainus teams.

Chemainus midjet girls defeated Duncan midjet girls by 15 to 11. The Shawigan senior girls lost to Chemainus senior girls 14 to 8.

The last game, between Shawigan senior men and Chemainus men, was fast, but Shawigan was outplayed. Chemainus won 48 to 28.

Howie Cathey and Kenneth McGladrey refereed.

Following the games the visitors were entertained at supper by the Chemainus teams.

The bowling alley at Chemainus Recreation Club is undergoing a thorough renovation.

There was a splendid attendance at the Crofton Hall Friday evening when the Westholme W.A. sponsored a card party in aid of Chemainus vicarage fund. Fifteen tables were in play.

JOHNSON SETS VOTE RECORD

Recheck Shows Leading Liberal Candidate Beat High Mark

Approximately 17,000 of the 24,000 electors in Victoria entitled to vote went to the polls Monday when two Liberals, one independent and one C.C.F. were elected to the British Columbia Legislature the recheck of ballots yesterday under the direction of P. A. Willis, returning officer, shows.

The recheck shows the candidates in the original order with Byron Johnson at the head of the poll. Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, next; Herbert Anson, independent, third, and the C.C.F. candidate, Rev. Robert Connell, fourth. J. B. Clearibue, who made a hard fight for fourth place, picked up 88 in the recheck to cut Mr. Connell's lead from 193 to 105.

The addition of the absentee votes brings the total up slightly. Byron Johnson's lead is increased and places him in the position of beating the record for high polls for an individual candidate which was held at the last election by Reginald Hayward when he ran as a Conservative. Mr. Johnson has 7,808, against the 7,784 which Mr. Hayward polled in 1928.

The results as announced yesterday were:

Johnson	7,808
Hart	6,146
Anson	5,751
Connell	5,581
Clearibue	5,526
Davies	5,210
Kinsman	4,985
Sheppard	4,146
Midgley	3,829
Moresby	2,977
Caird	2,547
Williams	1,596
Sinnett	1,568
Brown	1,217
McGavin	1,040
Goodland	919
Crowhurst	593
Owen	505
North	416
Cassidy	322
Mrs. Mason	108
Moir	96

By groups, the Liberal candidates received a total of 24,435 votes; Independents, 15,241; Conservatives, 3,119; Unionists, 2,829; Labor, 505; United Front, 98. Thirteen of the twenty-three candidates would have lost their election deposits under previous regulations, as they received less than half the number of votes found necessary to elect.

DR. E. M. PEARSE DINNER GUEST

Retiring Medical Superintendent of Jubilee Hospital Receives Presentation

A farewell dinner and presentation to Dr. E. M. Pearse, medical superintendent of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital since 1922 who is retiring on Saturday, was made yesterday evening at the Union Club by members of the board of directors.

The gathering was informal and during the course of the evening Mayor David Leeming, a special guest at the dinner, presented Dr. Pearse with a case of pipes, on behalf of the directorate. He paid tribute to the sterling work that had been accomplished by Dr. Pearse during his tenure of office and to the cordial relations that had always existed between the medical superintendent's office and the directorate. The loyal, tactful and efficient way in which he had carried out his duties had earned for him the good wishes of all the directors, the mayor said.

S. J. Drake, chairman of the board of directors, who acted as chairman for the evening, introduced Dr. T. W. Walker, who has been appointed as the new superintendent.

Dr. Walker and his wife came to Victoria a few years ago from Winnipeg and settled in the Gordon Road district. Besides being an accomplished surgeon he is a noted toxicologist and dermatologist.

Among those present at the dinner were Mayor Leeming, Ald. J. A. Worthington, H. H. Shandley, George McGregor, Chas. Williams, Hugh R. Allan, J. Vaughan Roberts, Edwin Tomlin, Reeve Wm. Crouch, Councilor Thomas Hadfield, Mrs. J. P. Potholm, H. O. S. Heisterman, Alderman W. H. Kinsman, Alderman F. R. Brown, D. E. Campbell, Dr. E. W. Boak, Dr. A. C. Sinclair and Dr. D. M. Baillie.

CONGRESS FACES WORK AND WAGES

It Will Have to Decide Early in New Year About 4,000,000 Jobs

Washington, Nov. 29.—Early in 1934 Congress will have to decide whether it wants to throw 4,000,000 persons out of work in the winter time.

It will have that responsibility when funds of the Civil Works Administration run out. The $400,000,000 received from public works money is expected to employ the 4,000,000 for an average of two months.

Incidentally, the programme is expected to take over and pay wages to all those who now are doing work for grocery orders. There are about 1,100,000 of them.

Those who thought they detected a faint chorus of "oink-oink" at the conference held here of 500 state, county and municipal officials' doubtless were mistaken. Only $400,000,000 was to be divided. There were predictions that many miles of roadway would be built out to the homes of county commissioners. And fear of graft. Cynics.

Some of the officials had an especially swell time when the president greeted them in the East Room of the White House. At least a score stood on gold-brocaded and satin-upholstered chairs and the evil they did lived after them.

The world's most unsophisticated young man is the one who went into a second-hand shop and said he wanted one for his watch.

"It's simple," said Senator Huey Long, explaining his campaign methods for senators probing Louisiana election scandals at New Orleans. "We throw out a few circulars, telling the truth and the people vote for us." Here's the bombastic "King Fish" on the stand, right, as he expounded his policies for Senators M. M. It was a relatively calm moment in a hearing frequently punctuated by violent outbursts as witnesses charged the Long faction with vote fraud and violence.

INSTITUTE TO FORM BRANCH

Round Table Club Will Organize Group to Study International Affairs

Formation of a Victoria branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs will be undertaken here shortly within the Round Table Club, it was announced following the first meeting of the club in Speedie's Restaurant yesterday evening when the aims and objects of the institute were laid before the members by A. B. Macfarlane, K.C.

Particular attention will be paid by the organization to the discussion of Pacific problems and the subjects will follow along the lines of those taken up at the recent conference at Banff.

Mr. Macfarlane, who attended the Banff gathering, explained the work of the institute and dealt with the wide scope of international problems which it discusses.

The undertaking was unanimously endorsed by the members and it was decided that at every second or third regular meeting of the club, Pacific problems should be taken up with discussions led by one of the members or by a visiting authority.

Ernest Reid, secretary of the Canadian Institute, who was in Victoria prior to the meeting at Banff, will return to the city on December 14, on which date a special meeting of the club will be held and Mr. Reid will deal further with the institute work.

HOTEL FLIES SOVIET FLAG

New York, Nov. 29.—Right in line with American recognition of Soviet Russia comes the fact that the St. Moritz Hotel in New York is the first American hotel (so far as is known) to fly the official Soviet red flag out of its front windows. It flew it, in fact, two whole days before Russian recognition became an established fact and this is how it happened.

Being right on its toes, the manager of the St. Moritz heard that Commissioner Maxim M. Litvinoff proposed visiting America the hotel cabled Litvinoff inviting him to be its guest while here. Being of a hopeful nature and knowing its diplomatic etiquette, the hotel had a gorgeous USSR flag made to hang out while their roof sheltered the Russian envoy.

Unfortunately, Litvinoff went directly to Washington and did not even reply to their invitation.

However, a few days later the noted Russian musician, Sergei Radamsky, and his talented, soprano wife, Marie Williams, arriving in New York from a month-long concert tour of Russia, were welcomed to the St. Moritz by the Government, went to the St. Moritz to stay. Here were two Russians in good Soviet standing, stepping right in the hotel. The St. Moritz was not slow to grasp its golden opportunity. Immediately the beautiful red flag was unfurled and flew the flag.

Tod Sloan Dying In Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—Tod Sloan one of the greatest of jockeys and favorite rider for the late King Edward VII, was said to be dying today at the Los Angeles General Hospital, where he was suffering from acute cirrhosis of the liver.

Sloan, fifty-nine years old, was said to have made more than $1,000,000 as a jockey before retiring to work in motion pictures in Hollywood.

His legal name is James Tod-hunter Sloan, and he was twice married and divorced, the last time in 1927. His wife, Elizabeth, obtained custody of their daughter.

series of proposed amendments had been rejected by straight party votes. The amendments, one of which sought to delay action by the Legislature pending a plebiscite, were moved by Bradley. Because they were not accepted, they were not recorded in the minutes.

Dr. H. M. Modell, who entered the House as an Independent by acclamation, voted with the twenty-four United Newfoundland Party members.

With the Assembly's resolution scheduled to be presented to the Legislative Council to-day, indications to-night were the Upper House would concur.

TENANTS LIABLE FOR HOME UPKEEP

The Real Estate of Victoria wishes to draw the attention of tenants to the fact that they are responsible for the proper upkeep and protection of the dwellings in which they reside.

It is quite possible that during the coming winter extra precautions may be necessary in respect of plumbing and fixtures. It is therefore desired to impress upon the public the fact that a little extra attention in the way of turning off the water supply, draining pipes and other precautions, on any indication of severe frost, will not only save considerable expense but great inconvenience.

WISH TO EXTEND CITY FRANCHISE

Associated Press
Vancouver, Nov. 29.—An amendment to Vancouver's charter to extend the civic franchise to all persons entitled to vote at provincial and federal elections will be urged by Mayor Taylor at a meeting of the council's committee on charter amendments which will be held soon.

This was announced by the mayor yesterday when the committee heard representations of three organizations for widening of the qualifications required of civic voters.

At present there are only three classes of civic voters: Property owners, owners under agreement, and tenants of property assessed at $300 or more. Only the two former groups are entitled to vote on money by-laws.

"PERSONS NOT FAT LIVE LONGEST"

Eminent Physician Declares
In a recent lecture before the American Academy of Medicine, a prominent physician stated that persons who aren't fat live the longest.

Common sense confirms this. Insurance companies often reject overweight folks, or charge higher premiums on account of the risk. Fat crowds and weakens body organs—it slows you down, and puts unnecessary strain on the heart. A host of ailments (even rheumatism, acidity, shortness of breath and lassitude) are often associated with fat.

So get rid of this dangerous, unhealthy fat. There's no reason why you shouldn't, when science has given you this safe, effective treatment—a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water first thing every morning.

This healthful "little daily dose" of Kruschen keeps the system free from harmful toxins. It helps to re-establish normal and proper body functioning—it keeps you feeling fine and fit all the time. Energetic activity takes the place of sluggish indolence all while you lose excess fat gradually and without discomfort.

Says Improvement In Britain Pronounced

Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, Addressing National Council of Education, Sees Recovery on Its Way

"The position of Great Britain to-day is improving steadily, and although other European countries are also feeling a slight improvement, the British Commonwealth of Nations proves its real value by the steady influence which it has on the remainder of the world," declared Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, former Minister of Labor in the British government, in his address on "Britain and World Stability," before the local branch of the National Council of Education in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.

While the entire world had suffered for nearly four years from the worst depression in history, Sir Arthur was confident of improvement in Great Britain. Affairs were going better generally, he said, and while France, Belgium, Germany, Italy and the other larger nations on the continent were also feeling better times, "Britain has quite distinctly cleared the corner and is making progress," Sir Arthur said.

The speaker felt this was a good sign for other countries of the world, for as one country had pulled another down as it was dragged into the depression, so it would assist the others up on the road to recovery.

RECOVERY TESTS

There were several tests which might be made to determine the truth of these statements of recovery, he continued. Chief among these was the comparison in capital industry production, such as in the iron and steel and building trades, or the staple trades.

One feature of depressions was that food production and other smaller industries varied little in their production, while the capital industries rose and fell rapidly according to conditions.

The general upswing in capital industries during the last six months indicated the sign of progress, Sir Arthur said.

Changes in stock prices he viewed as another means of testing recovery. Humorously he described how, during difficult times, those fortunate enough to have money for investing always placed it in government bonds or something equally secure. Then as recovery set in, they would draw this money out and invest in "gilt-edged securities" in order that it would earn a slightly higher rate of interest than government bonds.

Then as improvement became more evident they invested in industrial securities which paid a little more than the "gilt-edged securities," but were not quite as secure. Thus, carrying the process to its conclusion, when recovery had definitely set in there was naturally an increase in stock prices.

In the last six months there had been a substantial increase in stock prices, which was a sign of returning confidence, he said.

Another optimistic feature was that bank loans which had formerly been frozen assets in the form of overdrafts to cities and municipalities had now changed character and had become chiefly business loans.

Unemployment had decreased substantially in Great Britain since the beginning of the year, another evidence of improvement. The number of unemployed had decreased from 2,950,000 at the beginning of the year to 2,398,000 in six months, a decrease of 55 per cent.

Sir Arthur defended Britain's tariff policy and felt it had been a move towards avoiding making Britain a dumping ground for surplus products of other countries, and had materially assisted in recovery.

Another factor had been that the government had balanced the budget in Britain. Rigid economies were practiced and the people had been taxed to the limit, he stated, but this, with the conversion loan, "had cleared the air financially."

Sir Arthur dwelt at some length on unemployment insurance and the dole. He stressed the fact that these were two entirely separate systems and could operate quite independently of each other. The dole, he said, had enabled Britain to come out of the slump with the smallest degree of human suffering possible.

Sir Arthur pointed out that unemployment insurance, as enforced in England, was strictly an insurance scheme, under which the employer, employee and the state contributed proportionately and the insured was paid according to the risk involved and the premiums paid, the same as with any life insurance policy. This system had aided the country because it had maintained the volume of purchasing power, he said.

Sir Arthur stated he had been asked whether or not the dole was applicable in Canada. The principles of the system could be applied, he stated, but the nature of application should be different, according to the differences in England and Canada.

CONFIDENCE AMONG PEOPLE
Another encouraging feature which had been noted in Great Britain was that there had never been any real despondency. The banks had been steady throughout the depression and there was confidence among the people. He pointed out that Great Britain did not experience as great a boom as Canada and the United States, and possibly other countries of the world, and consequently at the arrival of the slump did not have so far to fall.

In concluding, Sir Arthur pointed out that in order to enable the rest of the world to recover, recovery was essential in the United States, and there must be some move towards the stabilization of currency, particularly the pound sterling and the U.S. dollar.

Col. H. T. Goodland was chairman.

BANQUET FOR NEW MINISTER

Canadian Press

Nelson, B.C., Nov. 29.—Hon. E. M. MacPheron of Cranbrook, new provincial Minister of Public Works, will be tendered a complimentary banquet in the Hume silver ballroom Friday evening by the Nelson Board of Trade. The executive endorsed the plan at a special council meeting yesterday.

Other newly elected Kootenay members, W. K. Ealing, federal member for West Kootenay, and ex-provincial members, including Col. Fred Lister and Captain James Fitzsimmons, will be invited.

EXPERIMENT ON SPIDER POISON

Canadian Physician at Alabama University Had Insect Bite Finger

Associated Press

University, Ala., Nov. 29.—Dr. Alan Blair, Canadian member of the medical faculty of the University of Alabama, who recently allowed a black widow spider to bite him in the interests of science, has now fully recovered and plans to continue his experiments.

For many years scientists have wondered whether the black widow was poisonous to human beings. The thirty-three-year-old Canadian says it is, and in order to prove it let one of the insects bite him.

Dr. Blair, after letting the spider pierce one of his finger tips, said he felt a sharp pain in the hand, which later spread as far as the shoulder, and a few moments later he was seized with abdominal cramps. His blood pressure sank rapidly and for two days he was in intense pain.

His reactions were recorded on the hospital cardiograph.

Dr. Blair is now well enough to play tennis once more at the university, where he holds the faculty championship. He was born at Brussels, Ont., in 1900 and twelve years later moved with his parents to Regina, where he graduated from the University of Saskatchewan. Mrs. Blair is also a graduate of that university.

Later Dr. Blair attended McGill University, Montreal. He has been on the faculty here for five years, and at present is associate professor of medicine.

Brandon, Man., Nov. 29 (Canadian Press).—Harry Cater was elected mayor of Brandon yesterday for a fifteenth term. The vote was: Cater, 3,124; F. G. Young, 2,490.

U.S. GOVERNMENT BUYS FROM FORDS

Associated Press

Washington, Nov. 29.—For the second time, Controller-General J. B. McCarl to-day held Ford Motor Company products are eligible for government contracts.

This was ruled in an opinion given the United States Department of Agriculture as the result of an attempt by Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, to keep the Northwest Motors Company of Bethesda, Md., a Ford dealer, from receiving a contract for civilian conservation Corps trucks.

McCarl held this question "is for judicial determination and not for consideration by the purchasing or contracting officer in the awarding of a contract."

BOY SAVES BOY IN THE FRASER

Canadian Press

Haney, B.C., Nov. 29.—Quick thinking and plucky conduct of Donald McDonald, sixteen, probably saved the life of Gordon Stephen, fourteen, who was being swept down in the Fraser River yesterday afternoon. Stephen fell into the icy water from a boat moored near the old Marys Lumber Mill and, being unable to swim, was near drowning when McDonald, fully clothed, plunged into the river and rescued him.

Both were none the worse for the immersion.

Donald is a son of Chief Constable Norman McDonald here.

PLANS ETHER FLIGHT IN OPEN BALLOON

Plans for a solo ascent of more than twelve miles into the stratosphere in an open balloon are being completed in Madrid by Lieutenant-Colonel Emilio Herrera, above, Spanish balloonist. By using an open balloon Herrera expects he will not be handicapped in his investigations to the same extent as he might be in a sealed metal sphere.

AORANGI WILL DOCK FRIDAY

Inbound from Sydney, Auckland, Suva and Honolulu, the Canadian Australasian liner Aorangi will reach the William Head quarantine station at 6 o'clock Friday morning, the local C.P.R. office was advised this morning by wireless from the captain of the ship. The liner sailed from Honolulu last Friday evening.

She will dock at the Ritz pier about 8 o'clock and remain two hours before proceeding to Vancouver. There are passengers, cargo and mails aboard for Victoria.

When the Aorangi sails from Victoria a week from to-day she will take out Christmas mails to the South Sea Islands, although she will be too late for mails to Auckland and Sydney.

The secretary-treasurer reported a slight cash deficit, but intimated the financial condition of the organization to be sound.

Inspector G. A. Allen reported 432 cases during the year, while 8,286 animals were inspected. A total of sixty-five animals was destroyed. The police of the three municipalities, the Provincial Police and the Mounted Police, were thanked for their co-operation.

URGE PRESERVATION OF EARLY ARCHITECTURE

Two photographs of the many to be exhibited before the recently formed Architectural Conservancy of Ontario in the Art Gallery of Toronto in an effort to promote preservation of early Canadian architecture are shown above. Top: Inverwick House at Perth, one of the best of the small houses in the province; left, unusual panels in the door of Cheney House, a charming cottage near Brampton. The prints are from the exhibition of Prof. W. H. Arthur, faculty of architecture, University of Toronto.

their production of "The Private Life of Henry VIII" starring Charles Laughton. These cards, which are in excellent condition, are different in design from our present day playing cards and are elaborately decorated.

Harp, lute, guitars and other musical instruments were borrowed from a famous Tudor collection for other scenes under Alexander Korda's direction.

"The Private Life of Henry VIII" showing the Bluebeard of kings with five of his wives, is a United Artists release and the attraction to-day at the Capitol Theatre. It is claimed by critics privileged to see the picture as Laughton's greatest performance. With him are his wife, Elsa Lanchester, Binnie Barnes, Robert Donat, Lady Tree and Miles Mander.

Pat's job was to guard the entrance to a room which led to an old and unsafe bridge. A large car came along.

"What's the matter?" demanded the driver, as Pat recognized his as his landlord.

"Oh, it's myself, yer honor," he said genially.

"Yes, it is."

"Tis all right, then. My orders are to see that no traffic goes through, but since it's myself, 'tis a pleasure—go ahead, sir."

ACTIVE SOCIAL SEASON COMING

December Packed With Events at Empress Hotel, With Yuletide Feature

Socially, the month of December will be packed with many events, a glance at the Empress Hotel calendar indicates. Commencing December 1, when the North Pacific Surgical Convention with its attendant social features gets under way, and ending December 31 with the annual New Year's Eve ball, hardly a day will pass without some form of festivity at the hotel.

On Saturday, December 2, under the auspices of the Girls' Central School, a luncheon will be held in one of the private dining rooms. The same afternoon the weekly tea will be held in the lounge, and in the evening the supper dance will be staged in the ballroom. The Women's Canadian Club will hold a reception and tea in the lounge on December 5. Also on Tuesday next the golden anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Spofford will be celebrated at a function to be held at the hotel in their honor.

On the evening of December 5, the annual police ball, one of the biggest events of the season, will be held in the ballroom. The adjoining foyer will have to be requisitioned to accommodate the crowd which is expected to attend this favorite dance. On December 6 a special tea will be served in the lower lounge.

The University Women's Club will hold a dinner, the Empress on December 6. On the evening of December 9 the weekly supper dance will be featured in the ballroom.

The Arion Club's concert, which will be held in the ballroom, is scheduled for December 11. On Wednesday, December 13, the Gorge Vale Golf Club's big ball will be staged at the hotel, the main ballroom being the venue.

The Canadian Legion banquet, which will be attended by about 300, will be held in the ballroom on December 15. The supper dance on December 16 will be featured by the attendance of all members of the Victoria Garrison Badminton Club.

Christmas week at the Empress Hotel will be a continuous gala, the outstanding feature being the annual Yuletide festivities.

Hundreds of reservations have already been made for the Christmas dinner, which will be served in the main dining room on the evening of December 25. The traditional board's head will be carried into the dining-hall by the chef and his attendants. Immediately preceding the dinner the Yule Log will be hauled across the ballroom hall and cast upon the glowing hearth, and Christmas carols will resound through the halls to appropriate music.

The Masquerade of the Beau-Arts Club will be held on the evening of December 26. On Wednesday of Christmas week there will be a large wedding reception in the hotel.

The children's fancy dress ball, annually staged under the direction of Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, will be held December 28. The Christmas supper will be held on the evening of December 30 and will be a big affair.

The New Year's Eve ball, which will commence on the evening of the last day of the year and last into the early hours of New Year's day, will terminate the festive season.

Scientists Stumped On Cause
Of Rheumatic Fever

Peculiar Disease Cannot Be Reproduced in Laboratory Animals So That Study of Its Development Might Be Made
By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

As much as scientists have been using animals, such as guinea pigs, as subjects in their attempts to find causes and cures of human ailments, they have failed so far to make any progress in the study of rheumatic fever, one of the most serious human diseases.

The reason for this difficulty is that it is impossible to reproduce a condition in animals similar to the human rheumatic fever, by injection of the streptococcus, or germs, found in the human case.

As a result, the medical world still is in the dark about the cause of this disease. Since the cause, however, must be present throughout the world and certain people develop the disease, there must be some individual sensitivity to this disease.

Moreover, some people infected with the streptococcal germs develop rheumatic fever, while others do not. Others develop chorea, or St. Vitus dance, and some show trouble with the skin.

The disease tends to occur among members of the same family where all members eat the same kind of food and are exposed to the same types of climate and hygienic conditions.

In one known family, the husband and the wife died of a disease affecting the coronary arteries, which supplied blood to the heart. Among their children three developed high blood pressure at the age of thirty.

In each of their families there has been one child, grandchild of the original grandparents, with coronary disease. Each of these children developed rheumatic heart disease or St. Vitus dance. The children lived in different parts of two states.

Not only is a certain type of human being likely to develop this heart disease, but there are various types of inflammation which vary with the body constitution. Some persons develop the condition affecting the heart only, while others develop the condition affecting the joints.

Persons dying from rheumatic fever develop a certain type of inflammation in the tissues of the heart which is characteristic of the disease. This apparently is caused by the specific toxin, poison, or bacterial virus which is the cause of rheumatic fever.

Medical scientists, therefore, have concentrated their attention particularly on this change in the tissue and have tried to test on animals various toxins that might cause rheumatic fever.

A particularly interesting point is the fact that this disease does not seem to occur with any frequency in tropical or warm climates. The reason for this is unknown. Many people think it is associated with the increased amount of infection of the throat.

There seems to be some indication that chronic cases of rheumatic fever tend to improve if they are taken to tropical areas. But some cases actually relapse under these conditions. It depends, of course, on virulence of the infection.

THE "MIKADO"
THIS FRIDAY

Local Production of Famous Comic Opera Promises to Be Colorful and Picturesque

A full dress rehearsal of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera "The Mikado," which will be produced by the Victoria Operatic Society at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings was held at the theatre this week. It augured well for the success of the performance, the costumes and scenery being outstanding.

Leading citizens of Victoria have lent their patronage. They include Premier and Mrs. T. D. Pattullo, Dr. B. F. Tolmie and Mrs. Leonard Andrews, Mayor and Mrs. David Leeming, Sir Frank and Lady Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. Walter S. Nichol, Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. Eva Baird, B. C. Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Mortill, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Robertson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spencer.

"The Mikado" is in two acts, both of which are laid in the courtyard of the official residence of the Earl of High Executioner of Titipu. With the chorus of ladies attired in colorful kimono, and picturesque is the formal coiffure of ancient Japan; the gentlemen in more somber kimono. Any haori coats, and the principals in gorgeous robes, true to the Savoy Theatre, in Drury Lane, the home of Gilbert and Sullivan, music, the local production of "The Mikado" should be one of the finest amateur shows ever produced in Victoria.

The Empire presents a new change in their double programme to-night and to-morrow with Ronald Colman and Helen Hayes in Sinclair Lewis' famous story, "Arrowsmith." These two stars put up the finest acting of their careers in this great drama of self sacrifice. A strong supporting cast includes Richard Bennett and Myrna Loy. The second feature is the merry comedy, "He Learned About Women," which contains those two most original players, Allison Skipworth and Stuart Erwin.

There is one episode in "I Was A Spy," opening at the Capitol Theatre Saturday which holds concentrated drama, Martha, the Belgian nurse who has become one of the most dangerous of the Allied spies during the German occupation of Roulers, has conveyed information which brings an airplane down upon the German soldiers, including a contingent from the hospital, as they are massed in the open at a religious service.

She is there to watch over her patients from the hospital, and her emotional storm, as she is torn between patriotism and her feelings of humanity for the tortured victims of the raid, is conveyed magnificently by Madeleine Carroll.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

More than 400 Hollywood "extras," together with a dozen prominent players, working in a Los Angeles department store, staged a thrilling bargain day rush during the filming of "Parole Girl," a Columbia feature now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

The story called for Mae Clarke to be caught in an apparently illegal scheme in the middle of a noonday crowd in a New York department store. Studio equipment was moved into the smart Los Angeles shop, the scenes were taken at night, and with the proper lighting and atmosphere, the place actually looked as though it was being invaded by a bargain crowd.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Mary Stevens, M.D." a Warner Brothers production, is at the Dominion Theatre.

Kay Francis has the leading role. It is said in the role she gives a portrayal which for sincerity, ability and dramatic power, would be difficult to match.

Lyle Talbot, whose splendid work in the past has won for him this choice role. He appears as a young doctor who takes the easy road to success in his profession—via marriage and the "soft" jobs to be found in political work, only to learn afterwards that the hard straight road is the wisest and the happiest.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

More than 400 Hollywood "extras," together with a dozen prominent players, working in a Los Angeles department store, staged a thrilling bargain day rush during the filming of "Parole Girl," a Columbia feature now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

The story called for Mae Clarke to be caught in an apparently illegal scheme in the middle of a noonday crowd in a New York department store. Studio equipment was moved into the smart Los Angeles shop, the scenes were taken at night, and with the proper lighting and atmosphere, the place actually looked as though it was being invaded by a bargain crowd.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Mary Stevens, M.D." a Warner Brothers production, is at the Dominion Theatre.

Kay Francis has the leading role. It is said in the role she gives a portrayal which for sincerity, ability and dramatic power, would be difficult to match.

Lyle Talbot, whose splendid work in the past has won for him this choice role. He appears as a young doctor who takes the easy road to success in his profession—via marriage and the "soft" jobs to be found in political work, only to learn afterwards that the hard straight road is the wisest and the happiest.

EGG MARKET TAKES DROP

After Five Weeks of High Prices, Wholesale Figure Drops Five Cents a Dozen

All grades of eggs, after remaining stationary in price since October 21, this morning took a drop of 5 cents a dozen on the wholesale market.

This drop is due to a sudden easing up of the demand for British Columbia eggs from the prairie provinces and the east, which has been considerable for some weeks. The demand is expected to resume again shortly, but owing to the increase in production now, it is considered improbable that prices will regain their former level.

Consumption in the province is below normal at present, owing to the high prices.

Retailers report prices of 47 cents a dozen for extra grade eggs, as compared with the former figure of 52 cents.

TAX PENALTY ON SATURDAY

Extra One Per Cent on Unpaid Current Civic Accounts Goes Into Effect

The third 1 per cent penalty on unpaid current city tax bills will be imposed on Saturday, collection department officials stated today. This will bring the total penalty on 1933 accounts to 3 per cent which will prevail for the month of December. On December 30, the final 3 per cent penalty will be added, making the statutory 4 per cent.

Civic authorities are studying closely the effect of the new penalty graduation, which was inaugurated as a relief measure to property owners suffering from the depression. Collections to date are 6 per cent behind the estimate but as the penalty is far in only small, a rush of payments is anticipated at the end of December.

CONTEMPT

Van Oudenal and Potter Before Court; Judgment in Few Days

Peter Johan Hatterman Van Oudenal and John Maxwell Potter were before Mr. Justice Robertson in the Supreme Court here to-day charged with contempt of court for violating an order of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald restraining them from dealing in the securities of the Canada Diatomite Company, following an investigation into the company's affairs under the B.C. Security Frauds reversion Act.

W. H. M. Haldane, representing the Attorney-General of British Columbia, conducted the case for the prosecution while the two men were defended by H. A. Maclean, K.C., and Robert Yates. Mr. Haldane told the court that in the face of the restraining order issued on October 13, the two men on October 14 approached a wealthy Rockland Avenue widow and got her to turn over to them 500 shares of the company. Mr. Haldane also brought up the fact that the two men on October 14 approached a wealthy Rockland Avenue widow and got her to turn over to them 500 shares of the company. Mr. Haldane went on to assert on the basis of the Cunliffe affidavit that "the two men, who were charged with contempt of court, were in the possession of 500 shares of the company, which they had obtained from the widow, and that they had been charged with contempt of court for violating an order of Mr. Justice D. PROBLEM OVER TEACHERS' PAY

New Government Must Find $200,000 More Than House Voted

A problem which the Department of Education has yet to solve is how to raise $200,000 for teacher salary grants. Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, states. The minister has found that the Tolmie Government agreed to provide $200,000 more for teachers' grants than is available. The sum is that much in excess of what was voted by the Legislature.

To keep the grants within the money voted the basis of standard salaries would have to be reduced $780 to $650. From $1,100 to $1,000, and from $1,300 to $1,100.

The department would do the best it could but had no solution for the financial difficulty it suddenly found itself faced with, Dr. Weir said.

The standard of education must not be lowered in British Columbia, the minister has frequently intimated. He also advocated greater education for the masses and possibly raising the limit of free education in British Columbia. The standard of education must rise to keep pace with the increasing complexity of civilization. The function of education is to keep people abreast of changing conditions, Dr. Weir commented.

FLIES TO SEA HUNTING-DEATH

John G. Harvey, another employee, testified that he saw the telegram which Mr. Cunliffe brought out of the office, and it was about the middle of October.

Mr. Maclean and Mr. Haldane addressed the court and Mr. Justice Robertson said he would deliver judgment in a few days.

CITIES SEND DELEGATION

Executive of Union of B.C. Municipalities to See Government

Problems of Relief Expected to Form Subject of Discussion

Unemployment relief problems are expected to loom largely in the discussion when a delegation from the executive of the British Columbia Union of Municipalities meets the cabinet to-morrow.

Soon after the election of the new administration Reeve Crouch, as president of the union, called on Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, under whom much of the business of relief administration comes, and assured him of the willingness of the union to co-operate with the government.

Many points in relief administration which have been criticized as unsatisfactory have been studied by Mr. Pearson during conferences with officials of his department. A number of recommendations by delegations and by mail have also received his attention.

CAMP PROBLEM

Some phases of relief distribution are considered unsatisfactory, and among these is the camp problem. It has frequently been pointed out that men in camps are in a position where they cannot search for work. A problem is also created by the fact that for various reasons a number of men at different times are discharged from camps where the Dominion Government maintains 5,000 able-bodied single, homeless unemployed.

These men are discharged they naturally drift to the cities where no provision is made for them.

BRUHN WANTS INVESTIGATION

Mistakes in Relief Administration Exaggerated, Says Ex-Minister

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 29.—If the Pattullo government does not take steps to investigate the much-criticized relief administration before the next Legislature meets, Rolf Bruhn, former Minister of Public Works, will demand such an inquiry. The member-elect for Salmon Arm made the statement to-day in reference to a demand for an investigation by the Trades and Labor Council.

"I certainly intend to ask for an investigation," said Mr. Bruhn. "This thing should be cleaned up and the places, if any, placed where it belongs. Personally I have nothing to hide. There may have been mistakes, particularly at the start, but many of these have been made exaggerated. For the sake of the men responsible and the civil servants who administered the work, I hope there will be a full inquiry, preferably by an impartial commission."

John McGraw Displayed Great Foresight in Judging Players

Drafting of Veltman By Pittsburgh Is Real Vindication

Mel Ott Was Turned Into Outfielder After Being Catcher

ARTHUR VELTMAN, reputed to be one of the best catchers performing in the Pacific Coast League last season, was drafted recently by the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League. Therein it is revealed another tribute to the uncanny foresight of John McGraw exercised in appraising young ball players during the many years he piloted the New York Giants. For it was McGraw who converted Veltman into a catcher at a time when the young man was striving to become a fielder, just as a few years before the former Giants' boss transformed Melvin Ott from a catcher into one of the game's foremost outfielders. Probably the most curious feature of these two transformations was the fact that to most observers both Ott and Veltman appeared far better suited, physically, for the jobs which they first attempted to fill.

When Ott went to the Giants in the spring of 1925 he was a chubby little fellow, a trifle short for a catcher, but only sixteen years old and therefore considered to have plenty of years in which to grow. However, from his stocky build few could possibly have visualized him as a budding outfield prospect. McGraw, after keeping the youngster on the bench for a season, decided Ott would never make a major league catcher and began the task of turning him into an outfielder. Even Ott's legs, so essential to a catcher, were against him. They threatened to give him a lot of trouble getting around. They still do. For they are muscular and knobby like a wrestler's. However, so great became Ott's skill in judging line drives that he overcame his physical handicap, and to-day is rated one of the most accomplished outfielders in the game.

Veltman's case was just the reverse. He went to the Giants in 1929 as a third baseman. But he appeared too rangy for infield duty and McGraw tried him in the outfield. Physically, he seemed ideal for the post. Six feet tall, weighing 175 pounds, the young Texan looked like a great prospect. He could run like a streak. And yet, after only a brief inspection, the keen eye of McGraw decided that this ability last long in the majors unless they are terrific hitters. Boush, once a fast runner, carried on for many years after his legs had given away, solely on his ability to get the proper start on a drive and his perfect position play, based on his knowledge of the hitters. Veltman decided to make a catcher of Veltman.

Veltman was sent to Bridgeport. The Giants always had a good supply of catchers and eventually cut the strings that held their prior rights to the young player. For several years Veltman kicked around the minors and last year got his chance with Oakland. His work with that club completely vindicated McGraw's judgement. Playing 144 games behind the bat Veltman compiled a batting average of .331, made 166 hits, scored seventy-five runs, drove in eighty-two and crashed twelve home runs.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Jean Fuste is just about the toughest guy in hockey? The new member of New York's champion Rangers is a French-Canadian boy who cut his teeth on a pair of steel skates... and who is said to be the ugliest guy in the game... Monsieur Fuste is a defense man... and what a defense he is!... He used to be a wrestler... and the way he goes to his opponents around on the ice is a wonderful sight... Wears a jaw that drops nearly to his ankles... and his face is ridged with scars inflicted by flashing skate steel.

62,000 ATTEND GLASGOW MATCH

Canadian Press

Hampden Park, Glasgow, Nov. 29.—Scotland and Austria battled to a 2 to 2 tie in their international soccer encounter here this afternoon before a crowd of 62,000 persons.

Meiklejohn put the Scottish in the lead within five minutes but Zischek scored for the Austrians to make it 1 to 1 at halftime. In the second half, McFadyen scored for Scotland but the visitors equalized with Schall's goal.

Opposing the crack Austrian team which had a victory over Scotland to its credit last year was the pick of the Scottish League's football eleven. Scotland won the toss and within a minute had the ball in the Austrians' net. McPhail getting a centre from Ogilvie on the run and shooting it past Platter, but the goal was disallowed for offside. Four minutes later Ogilvie was fouled and Meiklejohn sent in a brilliant goal.

AMERICANS IN MAJOR ROLES

Imported Players Feature Winnipeg-Toronto Argos Grid Clash Saturday

Toronto, Nov. 29.—They're going to set some precedents here Saturday when Winnipeg and Toronto Argonauts meet in an interprovincial football tussle that is not for the Canadian championship.

Carl Cronin, Notre Dame, and Lou Hayman, Syracuse, are the rival coaches. So the pre-game masterminding will be done entirely by Americans for the first time in the history of these annual gatherings.

But the Scullers play the Canadian type of rugby almost entirely. The Syracuse influence is shown, however, in the team's perfect timing of plays and the line's ability to provide smashing interference.

The east expects the Winnipeg front to know United States tactics, too, what with Cronin and Kabat handling affairs.

Montreal Maroons Turn On Power To Humble Canadiens

Red Shirts Show Old-time Form To Turn Back Habitants 4 to 1 in N.H.L.

TORONTO LEAFS AND BOSTON WIN

A week ago Montreal Maroons were on the griddle after taking a 5 to 0 lacing from Canadiens, but the panning had turned into praise to-day. Eddie Gerard's team, threatened with reorganization and banishment for some players, stepped into Canadiens with all their old-time fight yesterday evening and won a 4 to 1 verdict.

Maroons had everything they lacked a week ago, speed that outmarched the Habitants, a potent scoring punch and fight that brought them plenty of penalties but provided an exciting contest.

While Canadiens were taking their lacing in Montreal, Toronto Leafs swept back to the top of the list in the Canadian section standing with a 7 to 3 win over New York Americans. In Boston, Ottawa lost their seventh straight game to the Bruins, 3 to 1.

Little, it is expected, will be heard now of waiving Dave Trotter, Paul Haynes and Archie Wilcox out of the N.H.L. The trio, marked for sale unless their playing improved, redeemed themselves yesterday evening and it is probable the Maroon management will rate their services too highly to lose them.

Haynes got an assist, Wilcox played a good game and Trotter was aggressive enough to get himself a major penalty when he tangled in a fist fight with Lorne Chabot, Canadian's goalie, in the third period.

Baldy Northcott got the first Maroon goal fifty-two seconds after the game started on a pass from Hooley Smith, the goalie, who scored in the third. Wildor Laroche scored in the third. Wilcox finished the scoring in the second and third periods.

Maroons' fans who have stayed away in droves previously sensed the fight the Gerardians were going to put up and 8,500 fans attended the game.

It was a different story to the crowd at Toronto, when only 5,000, smallest attendance at a professional game since the Maple Leaf Garden was built, saw the Leafs and Maroons ten goals.

The Leafs' lead of drawing power is indicated by a comparison with the 13,000 that turned out to see Canadiens beat Leafs Saturday night. Three players, formerly with Portland in the old Pacific Coast Hockey League, figured in two of America's three corners.

Rabbit McVeigh teamed up with Duke Duthie in the first period to score the opening goal, while Chabot, who had scored the opening goal in the middle session, ALWAYS IN FRONT.

After they had overcome McVeigh's goal in the opening stanza Leafs were always in the lead and almost every Toronto player got in on the scoring list in the two outbursts they staged. Four goals came to the N.H.L. champions in the first period with three in the third. Lloyd Gross finished the scoring in the opening stanza with America's second corner.

If Senators continue losing games by a goal they'll soon find a hard luck team of the league. They now have lost seven games in nine starts, but only nineteen goals have been scored against them. Six of their losses, including yesterday evening's, have been by one goal.

Eddie Shore's trick tally beat the Ottawans in Boston. With less than four minutes left in the first period, he tied the game, 1 to 1, his pass out from behind the Ottawa net struck Bill Beveridge's skate and was deflected into the net.

SYRACUSE IN WILD VICTORY

Beat Detroit 7 to 0 in Rough Minor League Hockey Tilt; Cleveland Wins

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29.—In a wild international hockey league game, which saw twelve penalties handed out, the Syracuse stars yesterday evening routed the Detroit Olympians by a score of 7 to 0. It was the second time in as many games Syracuse has blanked the Detroit team.

Detroit was unable to beat the Stars goalie, Cude, or to penetrate the stubborn Syracuse defence. The game was rough throughout and in the final period Carrigan and Hergert, recruits from Calgary, both received a major for fighting.

Schirner, running mate of Hergert and Miller each got two goals, and Downie, Darragh and Forslund accounted for the others.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Syracuse, Downie (Darragh), 10:44. Penalties—Murray 2, Second period—2, Syracuse, Darragh (Downie), 1:11; 3, Syracuse, Miller (Markle), 12:40. Cleveland's victory sent them into a tie with Syracuse Stars for possession of third place while it was the fifth loss for the Tecumsehs.

Callaghan tallied on a pass from Roger Cormier when the Tecumsehs were short handed through Toots Holway's penalty. The Tecumsehs strongly protested the decision of Referee Mickey McGuire as Callaghan caught the puck with his hands near the Tecumseh goal mouth, though he made the shot which resulted in Cleveland's victory.

VICTORIA HIGH HOOP VICTORS

"Porky" Andrews Leads City Quintette to Easy Victory Over Esquimalt

Led by their scoring ace, "Porky" Andrews, the Victoria High School Cardinals defeated the Esquimalt High quintette 47 to 20, in a one-sided battle in yesterday afternoon's Peden Cup basketball game, played at Victoria High School.

The first half was slow, with little Duke Duthie, who had scored in the first period, being the only player to show his scoring ability in the first half, keeping the crowd on its feet.

Stalling and delayed breaking spoiled the first canto, making an altogether ragged beginning to the game. Andrews, of the Cards, had little trouble in finding the hoop, and contributed twelve points to his team's first-half lead of 20 to 4.

Taylor, first string forward of the Cardinals, broke loose with the start of the second half, and rang up eight points before Esquimalt succeeded in checking him. Wright of Esquimalt tallied and tossed in three long ones from the blue line. The half was fast throughout, the scoring see-sawing till the dying minutes. Andrews repeated his earlier scoring ability and ran his total up to twenty-three points, enough to defeat the Esquimalt squad alone. The final score was 47 to 20.

Norm. Hill refereed. The teams and individual scores follow:

V.H.S. Cardinals—G. Andrews 23, R. Taylor 16, D. Haddon 2, D. Walker, A. Barber 2, A. Shimizu and J. Ross 4. Esquimalt High—L. Thompson 1, P. Freeman 4, R. Wright 10, H. Ford 1, H. Harris 1, and B. Becknould 3.

Plenty of action should be offered basketball fans of the city this evening in the trio of hoop fixtures billed at the Victoria High gym.

In the opener at 7:30 o'clock Alan Le Marquand's Pantorium girls will stack up against Dad's Cookies in what should prove an interesting fixture with a strong bearing on the team standings.

Following is a thumb-nail sketch of the team's personnel: Ted was formerly a member of the U.B.C. teams and two Canadian championship clubs. Wallace is a forward and one of the most prolific scorers in Canadian basketball.

Ted McEwen, age twenty-five, team-mate of Mayers on U.B.C. squads and also played on the Adanacs two-time championship squad. Ted was formerly a centre but he switched to guard this year with conspicuous success.

Ken Wright, twenty-two, member of the U.B.C. squad last year, runners-up to Blue Ribbons for B.C. championship. Learned his basketball in Royal City as a member of the Highway Junior squad. Ken is a running guard and scores his share of points.

Ron Matheson, twenty-two, team-mate of Wright on last year's U.B.C. team. He is one of the most likely looking prospects to come to the front in B.C. basketball in years. A fast-breaking forward with a deadly shot.

Jack d'Easum, twenty-eight, and veteran of the squad who has played with Adanacs teams since their inception. Jack is an all-around athlete, plays guard and is plenty tricky with his dribbling and floor work.

Vincent Joseph, nineteen, youngest member of the squad is getting his first baptism of senior A basketball. He is a forward and is coming along by leaps and bounds. Joseph is a tireless worker and makes a point of snaring rebounds.

Ken Matheson, twenty-two, guard and member of the Highway Junior squad last year. Ken is the lightest member of the team but makes up for it with his speed and all-around ability.

Norm Stangland, twenty-two, guard, member of former Y.M.C.A. clubs, makes his presence felt on the floor with determined playing.

Rugger Will Try For All-star Team Berths December 9

Thirty Men Considered For Trial Game at Athletic Park;
Material Good

COACH STILL TO BE NAMED

Thirty men, whose names were jealously guarded by the selection committee comprised of H. A. Tomalin, Bob Travis and Commander M. A. Wood, of the Navy, have been selected for a trial game at the Athletic Park on December 9, after which Victoria's rep team to defend the McKechnie Cup and play Stamford will be chosen.

The match will be billed as a contest between White and Colors and players on each team will have an equal chance of securing berths on the all-star squad.

Final decision as to which thirty would comprise the two fifteens for the test had not been definitely decided to-day, but figures prominent in rugby circles vouched the opinion they would include some of the brightest talent that has been seen in the game here for some time.

With the prospects of games against Stamford here on January 1, as well as the usual run of McKechnie Cup fixtures, scheduled to start with a game against Vancouver on December 26, players were exceptionally keen to make the team.

YOUNG TALENT
It was understood in some circles that the team this year would be composed largely of young and husky players with prospects of four or five more seasons of good rugby before them.

Although a coach has not yet been appointed for the team, Ernie Butterworth, who looked after the boys during their last two successful seasons, was expected to get the call. This, it was understood, will also strive to secure the experienced advice of Bob McInnes in forming the squad.

Although no indication of the personnel of the teams for the December 9 trial was given to-day by the selection committee, a newspaper choice of probable starters in the event gave Brian Hunning, plunging wing three of the Bays a hundred to one chance of making the team.

MAY HAVE CHANCE
If the policy of last year is again followed, whereby backfield men playing together in the league are shown preference, Joe Addison and Pete Turgoose, also of the rowing club, would have a good chance of making the test. If Bill Letts were back in the game in time, he would most probably be given a berth as fullback for one of the two squads. But since indications point to a continued lay-off for the rowing club's star, it is doubtful if Bobby Tye, thinking stand-off half for the Scottish, will try for a position.

PROBABLE MATERIAL
Other men considered possible entries in the trial game include such "Peenuts" Matthews, Ernest Emerson, backfield players as Chuck McDonald, Ray Emerson and Bert Schwabe.

of the Navy, who last year was unable to play in inter-city games; Chuck Copeland, fleet Scottish three, and Symons of the Wanderers. King, also of the Wanderers, may get a chance in the scrum, although his team has yet to break into the win column.

Some followers of the game are also inclined to regard Frank Gribble and Gaunt of the Gunners as favorable material for rep teams, along with Jack Horne of the Scottish.

Jack Dunn was also among those bruited as a possibility for a job in the backfield.

In the forward division, where Victoria's team will feel the loss of Campbell Forbes, Godfrey Wagon and other old stalwarts, Bob Engelson of the Fifth Brigade, Chris Usher, Harry Peard, Bill Robbins and Vic Rogers of the Bays, look good. Bert Barker and probably another experienced man from the Navy may receive a call, while Ted May, veteran Scottish player, is seen as a possible for the test.

LOTS OF ASPIRANTS
There is a chance Bill Wharton may be brought out of the senior B division to join the ranks of the trial men.

The job of the selectors appears no easy matter. In addition to the men in the newspaper selection, there are many other outstanding players scattered through the 600 odd boys who are playing the game this season.

Whatever may be their troubles, those who pick the two squads for December 9 and then name the rep team should find no dearth of material for the fifteen which will go out in defence of the great McKechnie Cup.

Football Teams Meet Saturday in First Round of Milton Cup Series

First division clubs of the Victoria Coast Football League will open play on Saturday in the first round of the Milton Cup knockout competition. Only one match will be played with Esquimalt opposing Saanich Thistles at the Athletic Park, starting at 2.30 o'clock with T. M. Robb as referee. If the teams are tied at the end of the regular playing session overtime will be played.

Two fixtures will be run off in the second division with Esquimalt and the Thistles playing at lower Beacon Hill and the Victoria West and Victoria City meeting at Heywood Avenue. Alcock and Saunders will be the referees and the matches will commence at 2.30 o'clock. The Wests and Thistles finished in a tie for first half honors in the second division and a play-off will be necessary to decide the winners.

GREAT GAME EXPECTED
The Esquimalt-Thistles cup-tie engagement Saturday should be a sizzler. These teams met a couple of weeks ago to decide the first half league championship and the result was a 1 to 1 deadlock after one of the most bitterly fought matches this season.

Rivalry is extremely keen between the two aggregations and with the Jones Saturday being eliminated from the competition play will no doubt be fast and hard. Last week Esquimalt was humiliated 6 to 1 by the Wests and the Thistles were extended to nose out the City 3 to 2.

FAVOR COMMISSION
At a meeting of the Coast League clubs held in Vancouver on Saturday evening the teams joined forces with the Vancouver and District League to form a three-man commission to control soccer in British Columbia, when they decided to send a letter signed by all their clubs to the three men as early as possible. Victoria clubs of the Coast League are also in line with the mainland teams and have also signed the letter, while officials of the league are sending in their resignations. Secretary J. R. Jones represented the Victoria clubs at the meeting.

Substantial Gains In Wheat Futures On Better Exports

Winnipeg, Nov. 29.—Much-improved export demand, engendered by the reported establishment of a national marketing agency for Argentine grain growers, sent futures prices into the ascendancy on the grain exchange today. Closing quotations were 1 1/2 cents higher, as compared with the previous finish.

The brisk upturn more than erased losses sustained yesterday. November wheat closed at 61 1/2, December at 60 1/2, May at 64 1/2 and July at 65 1/2 cents. Values held close to the high points for the greater part of the day.

Advices from the Argentine that the government had established a grain regulation board to buy wheat, corn, barley and flax from producers at established prices, was construed as bullish by traders. Reported establishment of the board was confirmed by Broomhall.

Export business in Canadian wheat was considerably stimulated by the news, and shippers reported 1,500,000 bushels sold for shipment abroad. This was the largest movement in some time.

Outside markets also responded to the Argentine developments. Liverpool quotations finished 1 1/4 higher, while Chicago held gains of about one cent most of the day. Buenos Aires prices soared, and at noon were three to four cents up.

Cash grain trading was indifferent. Coarse grain quotations followed wheat prices to higher ground. Export sales of barley gave that commodity a boost while flax soared seven cents at one time.

Associated Press

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Unexpected developments in regard to Argentine Government agricultural and financial policies tended notably to-day to lift grain values here.

In addition, there was an advance of eight cents in the Washington price of wheat.

Wheat closed strong, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 above yesterday's finish; corn unchanged to 1/2 higher; oats 1/2 to 1/4 up, and provisions unchanged to twenty-five cents up.

BANK DEBITS MUCH LARGER

Financial Transfers in Canadian Banks For October Better Than in 1932

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—An increase of 29 per cent was shown in financial transfers in the form of bank debits, or amount of cheques passing through the banks in October, when the amount was $2,823,400,000, as compared with $2,367,200,000 in the corresponding month last year, says a report issued yesterday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Gains were recorded in each of the economic areas last month, as against the same month in 1932.

The total for the three prairie provinces was $201,600,000, compared with $157,700,000, the gain being 3.8 per cent. Vancouver and Victoria recorded gains over October, 1932, the increase in the former being 7.4 per cent. The total for British Columbia was $132,500,000, compared with $124,600,000, a gain of 7.1 per cent.

Bank debits in the first ten months of 1933 were $22,622,000,000, compared with $21,232,000,000, a gain of $3,350,000,000, or 15.8 per cent.

SMALL CENTRES OFF

This represents the revival in business and speculative activity, apparent in the larger centres since the first quarter of the year. Most of the smaller centres still show declines as compared with 1932. Increases over the first ten months of 1932 were recorded in three out of the five economic areas.

In the prairie provinces gains were recorded in Calgary, Medicine Hat and Winnipeg over the period. The net result for the three provinces was a gain of $1,485,000,000, or 37.6 per cent.

PROVINCE DECLINES

The increase in Vancouver was $10,372,000, or 1 per cent, the total for British Columbia being $1,343,000,000, compared with $1,235,400,000, a decline of 1 per cent.

Each of the five economic areas showed gains over September, but increases were not equivalent to seasonal standards.

The gain in the prairie provinces was considerably less than normal for the season, the total of $201,600,000 showing an adjusted decline of 38 per cent.

Debits in British Columbia at $132,500,000, compared with $124,600,000 in September, the decline after seasonal adjustment, being 6.3 per cent.

The index of bank debits after seasonal adjustment was 97.1 in October, compared with 104.3 in the preceding month. The index of the physical volume of business based on forty-five factors representing manufacturing, mining, construction, electric power distribution, was 89.9 in October, compared with 90.8. The seasonally adjusted index of employment in manufacturing plants moved up from 84.5 to 85.8.
